Champions

South Amboy Hurricanes USABL Champions

The City of South Amboy boasts a long legacy of baseball champions. That legacy grew on Sunday November 7th, when the South Amboy Hurricanes 14U Travel Baseball team won their championship game against the Southern Ocean Baseball Academy, 11-1. Capping a fall season record of (10-1), the Hurricanes had little rest between their semi-final victory against Howell on Saturday where they prevailed 4-3, to secure their championship berth.

In the title game, Ben Smith pitched 4 strong innings before Isaiah Mercado came in to shut the Revolution down the last 2 innings.

Ben and Isaiah also starred at the plate with Ben going 3-4 with 4 RBIs, and Isaiah chipped in with 2 hits and 2 RBIs. JJ Healey also had 2 hits and 2 stolen bases.

The championship roster for the Hurricanes includes: Ben Smith, Charlie

Baxter, Daniel Evanski, Isaiah Mercado, Jack Clements, Jadel Vasquez, Jeremy Vasquez, JJ Healey, Joseph Foreman, John Kelly, Matt Murphy, Nigel Johnson, and Vaughn Pelkey. The manager is Eric Mercado, and coaches are Brice Johnson, John Healey, and Hugh Foreman.

The City of South Amboy has a very inclusive and active baseball program that has been a mainstay of local recreation for many decades. Manned entirely by local volunteers and supported by the Mayor and City Council the program continues to grow. Five legacy players from South Amboy, Allie Clark, John and Ed O'Brien, Jack McKeon, and Tom Kelly went on to Major League Baseball. Clark won 2 World Series rings in 1947 and 1948; Kelly won 2 in 1987 and 1991, and McKeon won 2 in 2003 and 2019 (with the Washington Nationals).

Yearbook-Sayreville 1981

By Tom Burkard

“Sailing” by Christopher Cross and “Upside Down” by Diana Ross were the top songs in the nation when Sayreville War Memorial High School’s Class of 1981 returned for its final go round in September 1980. . . Dr. Marie Parnell was in her final year as principal. Some of the teachers were: Patti Borak, Laura Lang, William Doll, Eileen Nowicki, Carol McCormack, Sherry Popowski, Patrick Dineen. The yearbook was titled “Ups ‘N’ Downs,” and the editors-in-chief were Don Ferenci and Laura Saltzman. There were countless school-sanctioned clubs, and some of the noteworthy events included: the School Spirit Association’s Blue & Gray Week; Drives for the March of Dimes; Unicef fundraiser; Heart Fund fundraiser; holiday door decorating contest; 1981 “Almost Anything Goes.” Cindy Farver was Homecoming Queen. Laura Kawalec and Sharyn Bloodgood were Drum Majorettes. The school’s fall production was “Bad Seed.” The spring musical was “West Side Story.” The following is a random selection of seniors from this very huge class: Janice Albert, Laura Anderson, Brian Anthony, John Antonucci, Ed Bailey, Laura Bailey, Rich Baumann, Kathy Beyer, Bryan Bottomly, Adrienne Binda, Robert Burns, Thomas Carney, Terence Cooney, Debbie Coyle, Patricia Crummy, Liz DeBiase, Robert Davis, Christina DiPoalo, Judy Dodge, Sue Down, David During, Michael Dzeroski, Alexis Eberle, Estelle Elwood, Claire Farrell, Robert Fingerlin, Kathy Fig, James Flakker, Brian Freid, George J. Gawron, Lynda Giovenco, Tom Gallagher, Kelly Ann Gorka, Stephen Gulick, Elise Green, Nancy Jasko, Carol Kierst, Patricia Kirk, Stephen Klapay, Thomas Kotula, Christine Kupsch, Jim Lasko, Judy Loughman, Kathleen Lyons, Cynthia Mancini, Edward Meirose, Maria Michalik, Michael Moe, Donna Modzelewski, John Montefusco, Ann Moskwa, Elaine Nelson, Kathy Noviski, William Olszewski, Lynn Phillips, Mandy Phillips, Louis Ploskonka, Sandy Peterson, Michelle Rappleyea, Mike Reagan, Jeanne Rogers, Joseph Rudy, Brian Pritchard, Anita Ryan, Douglas Ryan, Kim Sabine, Ken Sadowski, Michael Scanlon, Ted Sieminski, Debby Seres, Debra Spiecker, Cheryl Skutnik, Lisa Sprague, Dawn Sutter, Kevin Sweeney, Keith Testa, Michael Tevis, Tracy Tierney, Brian Ust, Maureen Triggs, Laurie Unkel, Matthew Weber, Ron Wines, Jim Wilson, Sue Witkowski, Stephen Yuhas, Jeffrey Zadlock, John Zebrowski. The Student Council President was Judy Kalicki.

In high school athletics, the Bombers’ boys gymnastics squad finished (10-2), 3rd in the state tournament. Coach Jerry Carney’s boys cross country team went a perfect (11-0), and ran its unbeaten streak to 40, while winning the CJ Group IV title. Dan Ogborne scored his 1,000th point in hoops. The girls basketball team was terrific, (18-4). Junior, Cindy Allman scored her 1,000 point, and also broke Rhonda Rompol’s assists record with 124. Varsity track was also a perfect (11-0), finishing 1st in the county relays.

Some of Sayreville’s fine athletes selected randomly were: Tony D’Arpa, Gary Aich, Thomas Cannon, James Comerford, Steven Cunha, Ed English, Douglas Haley, Neil Hourahan, Mark McSpadden, Bob Nanco, Scott D’Aloia, Gregory Faczak, Nancy McFeely. “Bette Davis Eyes,” by Kim Carnes ruled the airwaves at graduation time, 1981. The Sayreville Class of ’81 was truly sensational in so many ways.

Amboy Bank Food Drive

Halloween Kicked Off Amboy Bank’s Annual Food Drive All Amboy Branch Locations Accepting Donations the Entire Month of November Every fall, Amboy Bank holds its annual Food Drive, collecting gift cards and shelf stable foods across all 22 local branches and the administrative office throughout the month of November. Amboy kicks off its efforts every Halloween with each Amboy branch dressing up for a bank wide costume contest, helping to propel community enthusiasm for an extremely worthwhile cause. Food insecurity in the Garden State has continued to be a pervasive, devastating challenge, and the emergence of Covid-19 has only exacerbated the problem. In 2018, an estimated 775,000 New Jersey residents reported difficulty putting food on their table at some point during the year, and that number is now projected to grow by more than 60%, or a total of over 1.2 million NJ residents. According to Amboy Bank’s President and CEO, Greg Scharpf, “our Amboy branches have had years long partnerships with the food banks in the local community and understand how impactful, especially during the holiday season, every donation has the potential to make for families in our neighborhoods. While we publicly kick off our Food Drive at Halloween, most of our branches are already actively putting together baskets and accepting items well in advance, knowing how much our customers, as well, support our shared goals of providing relief to anyone who may need it.” Amboy thanks the local communities for the ongoing participation and support in their annual food drive during the entire month of November. “We appreciate how everyone pulls together in our joint efforts to continue to help combat the persistent problems of food insecurity in our local communities,” said Scharpf, adding, “our branch’s themed costumes are so well anticipated every year, many of our customers came into our branches with their donations on Halloween just to check them out.” All donations are delivered to local organizations, including Old Bridge Food Bank, Lunch Break of Red Bank, Elijah’s Promise in New Brunswick and Open Door Food Bank to name a few. For more information on Amboy Bank and their partnership with local food banks, please visit AmboyBank.com or stop by any Branch.

Turkeys, Pigs and Ducks

By Elaine Holton Scott

There was a lonely turkey hiding in the bushes which surround my backyard. I could hear this poor soul sometimes when I was sitting on the patio. He was big enough to be a male and should have a harem of females. “Why is he alone?,” I used to ask myself. Then I'd see a large family of hawks flying overhead looking for something to eat and think I know the reason why. Male turkeys will risk their lives trying to protect their females and babies, but unfortunately they are no match for a hawk. Even when I don't see the hawks in the sky I know they are there by the silence. If a predator is around, birds will call out to other birds and small animals and all of them remain well hidden and quiet. Turkeys, then, are the vulnerable ones, no matter how fast they may run.

Seeing that lonely turkey scurry from the bushes to eat the bread and everything else I threw out had grabbed my heart. How I had wished he would find a female for himself which was hopeless as there is always one male and one Alpha male only. That's nature, and nature can be hard indeed. Not long after I wrote this, that lonely soul had disappeared too.

I can remember when turkeys appeared in supermarkets right before Thanksgiving and through Christmas. If anyone had wanted a turkey, it would have to be a special order at the Farmer's market in Perth Amboy. That all changed in the mid 1970's when, I guess, the grocery stores began offering ground turkey, no doubt, trying to use up the whole turkeys which had been leftover. In that time before Google, the first pack I bought, I had no idea what to do with it. So I made up my own recipe for turkey meatballs, not anything like beef meatballs, simmered in cream of chicken soup. I still use that recipe all of these decades later.

Years ago, having a turkey on the table was really special. Since Thanksgiving always falls on the third Thursday of the month, we, Catholics, couldn't eat any leftovers the next day as it was a sin back then to eat meat on Fridays. Being half Polish, Christmas was a time for smoked hams, fresh and smoked kielbasa, always from the Polish butcher, red and white horseradish, brightly colored boiled eggs, and Babka....homemade Babka, of course. I was only 19 when I started baking it, using an old recipe passed down from my maternal Polish grandmother, Franceska Wieczorek Primka, who had passed away in 1918 from the swine flu. She had been living in a house in Bergen Hill when she died. My paternal grandmother, Margaret Holton, also had died from that same Spanish flu but she and my grandfather and three toddlers had been living in a boxcar as squatters in Melrose at the time. Thanksgiving really was the only day we ever had a turkey. Although I'm half Irish and half Polish with a little “Slover” thrown into the mix, we usually always ate the Polish way during the rest of the year. Fried cabbage with bacon, if any was around, onions, salt and pepper served with cooked egg noodles was a common dish growing up, probably because it was cheap, especially without the bacon. There had always been lots of cabbage.

Going to the Farmer's market in Perth Amboy brings back another memory I've carried ever since I was only 4 years old. There had been no need to go for the produce they had sold since Joe Jaskowiak did that for us selling it from his converted old, dark green painted school bus. I remember seeing a duck in a wooden crate and putting my little finger through the bars. Soon, the butcher grabbed the duck, twisting something around his legs before hanging it upside down from a hook. With the duck squirming wildly, I watched in horror as his throat was cut, the blood running into a container underneath it. When he went quiet, I surely didn't, as I couldn't stop screaming. With my mother carrying the dead duck and the container of blood, we boarded the Marathon Bus with, no doubt, the man all of us would later get to know as Red the Bus Driver at the wheel. The next day, my family, except for the little girl I once was, eagerly sat down to enjoy one of the most favorite Polish soups of all, Czernina Zupa (Cha-nina Zoo-pa), known as Duck's Blood soup, a dark, brackishly, ugly soup usually with a big bayleaf floating on top.

Turkeys, pigs, and ducks....whatever you may enjoy eating for the upcoming holidays, I want to wish everyone Happy, Happy!!!

Reagan Richards To Perform The Great American Songbook

“with love, reagan” is an intimate Reagan Richards performance of classics from The Great American Songbook and is dedicated to her mother, Harriet, a former big band singer who is Reagan's first musical influence.

The powerhouse vocalist, who is one half of Jersey Country duo Williams Honor, will be backed by a stellar All Star Band. Reagan is no stranger to these timeless songs. At ten years old, she sang on original Tonight Show host, Steve Allen's New York WNEW radio show, and years later, just like her mother, sang with the legend himself, Les Paul. Les loved Reagan's beautiful, unique tone and powerful throwback sound.

Join Reagan and her band as they take you on a sentimental journey with this extraordinary music.

Honoring South Amboy's Oldest Veteran Buddy Vanni

By Mary Szaro, President of The Historical Society of South Amboy

The historical events of WWII are primarily taught in school and read about in history books - unless you've lived through them. Few people can share firsthand stories of what it was like to graduate from Hoffman High School eighty-two years ago, be drafted, and then sent overseas a few years later to fight in one of the largest and deadliest wars in history. Francis Albert Vanni, known as Buddy, is one of those people.

Born one hundred years ago this past September, Buddy's parents Primo and Vincenzo were Italian immigrants who settled down in the area known as Bayview Manor just over the city limits off Old State Highway 35. The 1930 city directory records his father Primo working for the Terra Cotta Corporation in South Amboy. Buddy attended school in South Amboy and was a part of the 1939 graduating class of Hoffman High School. A photo of his senior class trip hangs on the wall in his living room, capturing the class posing proudly in front of the Capitol building in Washington, DC.

Drafted on November 27, 1942, less than a year after the attack on Pearl Harbor that propelled the United States into WWII, he was off to Bootcamp in Camp Maxey north of Paris, Texas. With a reminiscent grin, he shared a story of how at the end of a 7-day furlough, he missed the train back to Texas due to bad weather and was almost declared AWOL.

On September 12, 1944, a few months following the June 6th D-Day Allied invasion of Europe, his unit was sent overseas as part of the 102nd Infantry Division, landing in Cherbourg, France, in late September 1944. PFC Vanni served in the European Theater under the supply Sergeant in the 37th Engineer Combat Battalion, Company B, driving supply trucks. As part of the Ninth Army, they advanced into France, just south of Paris, to the Ardennes region of Belgium, where they held the line near the Battle of the Bulge and then into the heart of Germany. On April 12, 1945, the 102nd advanced toward the Elbe River, about 50 miles north of Berlin, and remained there until the war's end. When I asked him where he was on V-E Day (May 8, 1945, Victory in Europe), he replied, "meeting with the Russians at the Elbe River." With their last battle fought the day before, the 102nd ended the war at 3:00 pm on May 7, 1945, on the banks of the Elbe River in Germany.

Following post-war occupation duties providing security in the extensive area under Allied control, Buddy returned to the United States in January 1946. Like many soldiers, he brought back military items, including weapons taken from the Germans. Buddy brought back a Luger pistol that he traded for an engagement ring to give to the girl in South Amboy who waited so long for him to return home.

Buddy met Irene, the daughter of Italian immigrants Dominick and Philomenia Abbatiello, a few years before joining the military while working with his father picking up building blocks. On June 21, 1947, Irene and Buddy married in the backyard of her parents' home on Prospect Street. After the couple left for their honeymoon, the two families continued the celebration, which turned into a tradition for the annual family reunion that lasted over fifty years.

Buddy and Irene moved into a home on Parker Avenue and raised their family surrounded by their large Italian families. He described the area near the house that was once an open field filled with peach trees and vines that grew the grapes for his father Primo's homemade wine.

My sincere thanks to Buddy, his daughter Joan and son-in-law David for the wonderful opportunity to meet with them and share their family history.

Thank you to ALL the South Amboy military veterans and our men and women in uniform, past, present, and future. May their remembrance be as long-lasting as the land they honored.

A Sailor's Story

By John “Flip” Phillips

I really enjoyed reading Rich Kosmoski's article about his time in the Navy. And the many experiences and feelings he had being a sailor on board a fighting ship of the United States Navy. I share some of Rich's feelings. His story brought back long forgotten memories of my time(s) “at sea”. As a Marine I have been on more than a few ships. Of course, they were the amphibious part of the fleet, not the combat ready blue water ships that Rich sailed on. I have been on Attack Transports (APA's), Landing Ship Tanks (LST's) and Landing Ship Dock (LSD's) and others....more than a few times. I remember climbing over the side and down the net of APAs into the small boats for the ride to the beach to practice ship to shore invasions. I did not like LST's...it was like sailing in a rowboat in rough waters....up and down, side to side. The sailors always got a laugh at us seasick Marines. My favorite ship was the LSD. Imagine a ship out in the ocean that lowered itself aft (the rear) to take on water to allow two large personnel ship to shore boats to enter. Then the ship slowly closed up and the water was expelled. To launch the boats the process was reversed. Another ship I was on only once was a Command Ship, a CG. I did not like this one....too many officers.

Like Rich I loved being at sea. As a communicator I always volunteered for the “Mid Watch” the 12am to 4am duty. The Marines always had a small communication section top side across from the ship's main communication center. The sailors would always share with us the always plentiful “Mid-Rats,” fresh baked rolls, pastry and lunch meats brought up from the mess deck. I agree with Rich: to look out over the ocean as the sun rises with the ocean breezes in your face, and to wonder in awe at the star-filled nights on a calm sea are experiences to be enjoyed and remembered.

Thanks for the memory trip Rich. I really liked your story.

The Smoke Column

By Ex-Chief Richard Kosmoski, MS

The November "Smoke Column" is going to be presented as a safety reminder for all you culinary experts who intend on roasting the "Big Bird" on Thanksgiving for family and friends. Many cooks plan to go all out for Thanksgiving dinner, usually cooking enough food for the entire town. In doing so, please remember that safety in the kitchen should be your number one priority. In a past Thanksgiving article, I reported on a fire call I responded to years ago at approximately 11:30am on Thanksgiving Day. The call was reported as a working kitchen fire. Pulling up to the house, heavy black acrid smoke was pouring out the front and back doors. It looked at first that the fire was well on its way to being a disaster. Luckily, the culinary mishap happened when the cook was only pre-heating her oven but forgot she had stored her Tupperware collection inside the oven, and never checked inside before turning it on.

I want to note some statistics for fires occurring on Thanksgiving Day as recorded by the U.S.

Fire Administration. For each year from 2017 to 2019, an estimated average of 2,300 residential Building fires were reported to fire departments in the U.S. on Thanksgiving Day. These fires caused an estimated annual average of five fire deaths, twenty-five injuries and $25 million in property loss. The average number of reported residential building fires on Thanksgiving Day was more than double (2.3 times more) than the average number of fires in residential buildings on all other days. The average losses for these fires, however, were less than the same measures for non-Thanksgiving Day fires in residential buildings. In my opinion, these lower losses were due to the fires being contained within the stove and kitchen area. There also may have been more family members home at the time of these fires and helped to contain it to the point of origin.

Cooking fires in residential buildings occurred more often on Thanksgiving Day than any other day of the year. Cooking was by far the leading cause of all Thanksgiving Day fires at 74% followed by heating at 7.7% and then all other causes.

It is not surprising to note that over half (54%) of Thanksgiving Day fires occurred from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., when many people are preparing Thanksgiving dinner. Fires then declined throughout the evening hours. This stands in contrast to the rest of the year, when residential building fires peaked during "normal" dinner time hours of 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. In 75% of Thanksgiving Day fires in residential buildings, the fire was limited to the object of origin. An additional 11% of the fires were limited to the point of origin. Unfortunately, the other 14% of the fires extended beyond the room of origin. These reported statistics show that most Thanksgiving Day fires will occur in the oven or on the stove top and be contained to this point of origin. What would YOU do if a fire occurred in your oven? The oven is an enclosed box where a fire is normally occurring to heat the oven. If a fire does occur in YOUR oven, do not open the door. If possible, shut off the gas, leave the kitchen, and call 911. We are only minutes away!

A word of advice to those culinary experts who intend to deep fry your turkey. Make sure the turkey is thoroughly defrosted. Then slowly place it in the hot oil so as not to create a spill or have the oil overflow the pot. Do not cook on a wooden deck, inside a garage, or near any structure. If the oil spills over the top of the pot, IT WILL come in contact with the open flame and cause a fire to erupt that you WILL NOT be able to control. It may also extend to the structure due to its extreme temperature and can melt/burn vinyl siding off of a home quickly. HAVE SAVE AND HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM THE "SMOKE COLUMN"

Middlesex College Holds Coat Drive
(Submitted by Middlesex College)

The Middlesex College Department of Business and Computer Science, the College Foundation, Alumni Association, the Hub Community Resource Center and Food Pantry, and Volunteers in Action collected 137 winter coats from the College community. Students may then visit the Business and Computer Science Department in Edison Hall Room 123 to select the coats they need. It will be open weekdays from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. In addition, the room has other clothes for students to select – for both men and women in all sizes.

Here, staffing a drive-through collection site, are members of Volunteers in Action, from left: Savannah Cook (Piscataway), Jason Delgado (South Amboy), Alison Wong (Woodbridge), Katherine Rodriguez (New Brunswick) and Lauren Denton (Edison). Francesco's Pizzeria & Restaurant provided pizza and drinks for the volunteers. Anyone who would like to donate a new or gently used coat can bring it to collection bins in the lobbies of Edison Hall, College Center, West Hall, and Raritan Hall on the Edison campus. Treasures of the Church Exposition
December 18
By Steve Schmid

The Advent season is very important for Christians as they look forward to celebrating the birth of Jesus. Our Lady of Victories Church is offering something special this year. The church is hosting a Treasures of the Church Exposition Saturday night December 18 following the 5 p.m. Mass. Pastor Father Robert Pinnisi is thrilled to host this special event. He said he was watching Mass on TV from Rockville Center New York when he saw Father Carlos Martins talk about Treasures of the Church which attracted his interest and attention. He soon got a letter from Father Carlos who was hoping to bring the exposition to Sayreville. Treasures of the Church is a ministry dedicated to evangelization and is run by Father Carlos of the Companions of the Cross. The exposition begins after Mass with a multimedia presentation on the Church's use of relics that is devotional leading to a renewal of the Catholic faith for many. After the teaching, those in attendance have an opportunity to venerate the relics of some of their favorite saints at Msgr. Dalton Hall next to the church. Our Lady of Victories Church is located at 42 Main St. in Sayreville. For more information you can visit treasuresofthechurch.com.

Remember When?

You would go up to the front of the church to the altar and kneel side by side, as the priest gave you Holy Communion. This photo was taken at St. Mary's Church way back in 1947. If anyone looks familiar, please let us know.

October What Is It? Fishing Bobbers

Last month's object was a fishing bobber. See the letters from our readers for information on them. The following were able to identify the bobber: Dennis Quinlan, Ray Andrejewski, Elaine Fedor Balzamo, Marlene Letwenski, JoAnn & John French, Eleanor Westerholm, JoAnn Niestemski, Jim Malkiewicz, Valarie Beshada, Diane Mauro Dudas, Steve Brandon, Betty Leveille, Pat & Bill Scully, Laurie & Gary Loftus, Betty Leveille, Edna Mazur Pilch, Mark Moniello, Marie & Ed English, Craig Yetsko, Gary Feret, Lynn Loy, Steve Laskiewicz, Ann Charmello Hill.

LETTERS

From our reader Ray Andrejewski
Dear Brian and Phyllis,
Those are BOBBERS! By Crackee!
I can feel the excitement of fishing for snappers with these, back in the day. The anticipation of waiting for the bobber to "bob" was what fishing was all about.
Ray Andrejewski

Hi,
It's a fishing bobber!
My Dad Gene Fedor taught us how to fish using them, many years ago!
Elaine Fedor Balzamo

From the all-knowing Google....
What is the purpose of a bobber in fishing?
Whether you call them bobbers, floats or corks, these simple devices have several useful functions. They suspend your bait at a depth where fish are feeding. They let you know when a fish bites. They add weight for casting small lures, reduce snags and enable you to maneuver your bait to prime fishing spots.

Where Have You Gone, Bob Graber?
By Tom Burkard

Bob Graber grew up in South Amboy, and in the mid-1950's, played and starred for the First Aid Little League baseball team, and also found time to serve as an altar boy at St. Mary's Church. He was a very talented athlete, and went on to St. Mary's HS, where he excelled in baseball and basketball, and graduated in the class of 1960. In his junior and senior years, he played for legendary coaches Luke Lenahan in basketball and Bill "Smokey" Ryan in baseball.
Bob continued his education at Newark State College (now Kean University), and then entered the teaching field, spending 31 years at Grace M. Breckwedel School, where he taught 6th grade social studies, and at John F. Kennedy School, for 8 years, teaching 5th grade science, until retiring in 2005. His love of sports continued throughout his career, and he was the 7th-8th grade boys soccer coach at the Middle School for 22 years, and girls soccer for 2 years. Many of his players went on to win state championships on the Monroe HS team. He also coached varsity basketball at Jamesburg HS for 8 years, and was the last coach before the school closed in 1979, and students began attending Monroe Twp. High School.
Taped on the wall of one of his classrooms at John F. Kennedy School for his students to read was the quotation, "Find a job that you love and you'll never have to work a day in your life." This certainly rang true for Mr. Graber, who truly enjoyed working with the youth of today. He said that, "I've always loved my job, and still get Christmas cards from my former students."
For his outstanding teaching ability, he was selected Teacher of the Year in New Jersey in 1990 and also 2005. In '90, he was honored to have the opportunity to have lunch with Governor Jim Florio and Saul Cooperman, the Commissioner of Education.

Graber, 78 years young, is in outstanding shape, and credits the rigorous training regimen instilled in him by his basketball coach, the late Luke Lenahan, for inspiring him to continue working out throughout his life. Bob, who lives in Old Bridge, is a huge New York Giants football fan, and has been a season ticket holder for over 40 years.

50th Reunion

St. Mary's South Amboy High School Class of 1971 enjoyed their 50th class reunion at the Offshore Restaurant and Pub in Pleasant Beach on October 23. People effortlessly slipped back into their high school experience and enjoyed each other's company. Awards were given in the true 1960-1970s era. Ipana toothpaste, Aquanet hairspray and pictures of Jimi Hendrix and the Beatles were among the prizes that were awarded to certain classmates. All in all, it was definitely a blast from the past, in which everyone had such a great time! (Photos/Info Submitted)

No One Fights Alone

On Saturday, November 6th, members of the Sayreville Fire Department went to the home of one of their own, 911 Emergency Dispatcher Anthony “Moogs” Magliocco. They went to show their support for “Moogs” as he fights his battle against cancer because “No One Fights Alone.” Also responding was the pink fire truck called “Morgan” in support of all cancer patients. The Church Of The Sacred Heart 125th Anniversary

By Dr. Jorge L. Gonzalez-Gomez

The Church of the Sacred Heart South Amboy, NJ celebrated their "Quasiquicentennial Jubilee" (125th) on Sunday, November 7, 2021 at 3:00 PM Mass celebrated by The Most Reverend James F. Checchio JCD, MBA, Bishop of the Dioceses of Metuchen. The Mass was con-celebrated with SHC Pastor Rev. Stanley Gromadzki, SHC Parochial Vicar Rev. Lukasz Blicharski, St. Mary's S.A. Pastor Rev. Dennis Weezorak, St. Bernadette Parlin Monsignor Andrew Szaroletta, St. Mary of Ostrabrama S.R. Rev. Michael Gromadzki and Deacons Rev. Richard O'Brien St. Mary's SA and Rev. Gregorio Rios OLF PA.

During the Bishop's homily, he touched upon the sacrifices made by the founding families in 1877 to establish Sacred Heart Church. The founding families were Andrew Primka; Casimer Biesiada; and Gomolka. Later the church grew and was influenced by the efforts of Machuski, Nowicki, Novak, Walczak, Paczkowski and countless others. The Bishop touched upon how Sacred Heart Church today fosters many faith based groups such as the Council of Catholic Women, Holy Rosary Society, Youth Ministry, Boy Scout Troop 95, Sacred Heart Love Life Group, Catholic War Veterans, Knights of Columbus Council #426, Holy Name Society and lastly, the Spanish Ministry, which continues to grow with weekly mass service in Spanish. Mass was followed by a very formal and well attended dinner at Memorial Hall.

Flags For Heroes

By Steve Schmid

St. Stanislaus Kostka School in Sayreville is showing strong support for U.S. military personnel home and abroad. The school is flying flags around the school and parish property. The flags also show support for local heroes such as police, firefighters, EMS and front line workers. Third grade teacher Lisa Grover organized the Flags for Heroes Fundraiser and is thrilled with the community support. She said the school has raised $7,000 to help repave the back lot where students play during recess and gym. Another $900 will be going to the Menlo Park Veterans home in Edison. She got the idea for this fundraiser by seeing many American flags flying in the area. The flags were blessed at an outdoor ceremony November 8 by St. Stan's Church Pastor Father Ken Murphy, in front of a crowd of students, residents, and veterans. The flags will fly until December 18.

Don’t Quit

(Author Unknown)

When things go wrong as they sometimes will
When the road you’re on seems all uphill
When your funds are low and debts are high
And you want to smile
but you have to sigh
When care is keeping you down a bit
Rest if you must,
but don’t you quit!
Life is strange with its twists and turns
As everyone of us
sometimes learns
And many a failure turns about
When we might have won had we stuck it out
Don’t give up, though the pace seems slow
You may succeed,
you never know
Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint
and faltering man
Often the struggler
has given up
When he might have captured the winners cup
And he learned too late when the night
slipped down
How close he was to the golden crown
Success is failure
turned inside out
The silver tint of clouds of doubt
And you can never tell how close you are
It may be near when it seems so far
So stick to the fight when you’re hardest hit
It’s when things seem worst
You must not quit!

Assembly Panel Clears Quijano, Jasey, & McKeon Measure to Establish Postconsumer Recycled Content Requirements

To bolster our recycling industry and reduce the number of microplastics in the environment, Assembly Democrats Annette Quijano (D-Union), Mila Jasey (D-Essex, Morris), and John McKeon (D-Essex, Morris) sponsor legislation to establish post consumer recycled content requirements. The measure was approved by the Assembly Environment and Solid Waste Committee on Monday.

The bill (S-2515/A4676) would establish post consumer recycled content requirements for rigid plastic containers, glass containers, plastic beverage containers, paper, and plastic carryout bags, and plastic trash bags. Post Consumer recycled content is defined as a material or product that has completed its intended end use and product life cycle, and which has been separated from the solid waste stream for collection and recycling. Under the bill, the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protections (NJDEP) would be authorized to review and adjust any of the post consumer recycled content requirements based on changes in market conditions, availability of recycled material, and capacity of recycling infrastructure.

Upon committee approval of the measure, Assembly members Quijano, Jasey, and McKeon issued the following joint statement:

“This measure is a multifaceted approach toward tackling the issues surrounding our recycled waste industry, while also reducing the amount of microplastics introduced to the environment. Over the past few years, other countries such as China have decided to no longer buy most plastic waste content. New Jersey has an opportunity to enhance our market for plastics, and this bill will allow us to be at the forefront of a transitioning recycling industry.”

“Microplastics are very harmful to our environment, especially our oceans. This measure will allow us to further protect the aquatic animals along our coastline and mitigate the effects harmful plastics have on our ecosystems.”

The sponsors of the measure will continue to hear concerns from stakeholders.

Middlesex County Office of Health Services Rabies Advisory

The Middlesex County Office of Health Services is reporting that a skunk tested positive for rabies in the Township of Old Bridge, Middlesex County, in the vicinity of Vail Drive and Hunter Court.

This is the seventh rabid animal reported within Middlesex County for 2021 and the first rabid animal in Old Bridge.

On Saturday, November 13, 2021, a resident of Old Bridge’s pet dog attacked and killed a skunk in the resident’s back yard. The animal was picked up by the Animal Control Officer and was then taken to the New Jersey Department of Health Laboratory for testing. It was reported on Tuesday, November 16, 2021 that the animal tested positive for rabies. The resident’s dog is currently vaccinated for rabies and was instructed to follow up with their veterinarian. The resident was notified to consult with a physician regarding any rabies post exposure treatment.

The Middlesex County Office of Health Services continues to monitor rabies cases within the municipality. Residents should report wild animals showing signs of unusual behavior to the Police Department. Additionally, it is recommended that residents should avoid contact with wild animals and immediately report any bites from wild or domestic animals to your local health department and consult a physician as soon as possible. Finally, be sure that all family pets are up to date on their rabies vaccinations.

Rabies is caused by a virus which can infect all warm-blooded mammals, including man. The rabies virus is found in the saliva of a rabid animal and is transmitted by bite, or possibly by contamination of an open cut. New Jersey is enzootic for raccoon and bat variants of rabies. Bats, skunks, groundhogs, foxes, cats and dogs represent about 95 percent of animals diagnosed with rabies in the United States.

Rabies Prevention Guidelines
The Middlesex County Office of Health Services is advising residents to follow these guidelines to prevent rabies from being transmitted to themselves or their pets:

1. Immediately report a bite from a wild or domestic animal to your local health department. Wash animal bite wounds thoroughly with soap and water as soon as possible after the bite. Contamination of open cuts and scratches with saliva of potentially rabid animals should also be washed off immediately. Consult a physician as soon as possible.

2. Immediately report any wild animals showing signs of unusual behavior. Signs of unusual animal behavior could be that the animal may:

- Move slowly
- May act as if tame
- Appear sick
- Have problems swallowing
- Have an increase in saliva
- Have increased drooling
- Act aggressive
- Have difficulty moving
- Have paralysis
- Bite at everything if excited

Residents should avoid any contact with the animal and call your local animal control officer or local police department.

3. Be sure that all family pets are up to date on their rabies vaccination. If unsure, please call your veterinarian. Call your local health department for free rabies vaccination clinic availability.

4. Animal proof your home and yard. Make sure all garbage containers have tight fitting lids, do not leave pet food or water outside, do not allow rainwater to collect in outdoor containers or equipment and keep yard free of garbage and debris.

- 5. Do not feed or handle wild animals.
- 6. Avoid contact with stray animals or pets other than your own.
- 7. Try to prevent your pets from coming into contact with wild animals.
- 8. Screen off vents to attics and other areas that could provide shelter for bats

THE DAY OF INFAMY- EIGHTY YEARS LATER

By Rich Kosmoski

In a few days we will be celebrating one of the most infamous events in our country’s history, the 80th Anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. There are very few people alive today who witnessed those events or were able to hear the live radio broadcasts from Pearl Harbor as the attack was occurring. I am talking about one of the most deadly and cowardly acts ever to be inflicted on the United States of America. It was the sneak attack by the Japanese Imperial Navy against the United States Pacific Fleet and the military bases in and around Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. For three long hours, these areas were ravaged by Japanese torpedo planes, bombers, and fighter planes as wave after wave of these planes came over the mountains with their destructive armament.

The United States was not at war with the Japanese or any other country during this time, nor was it planning to do so. There may have been implications leading to war but no formal declaration made nor anticipated. The home port of the United States Pacific Fleet moved from California to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and was the reason so many ships and personnel were stationed in and around that area. Pearl Harbor is situated in such a way as to protect the shipping inside the harbor from attacks coming from the sea. Being there is only one entrance/exit to the harbor, it was easy to protect. Unfortunately, this single entrance/exit prevented ships from leaving their berths and escaping the deadly attack. Sunday mornings aboard Navy ships in port is usually a relaxed atmosphere during peacetime. Sailors not on duty get to sleep later than usual and instead of breakfast there is a later brunch. This morning, sailors were still ashore from Saturday night liberty or preparing to attend religious services on board the ships in port. At 7:40 am on December 7, 1941, the first wave of Japanese attack planes flew over Hawaii and at 7:50am, the deadly attack on Pearl Harbor commenced. Japanese bombers came from the aircraft carriers which were located 230 miles north of Oahu. These aerial attacks continued until all their bombs were dropped on the selected targets. The American military fought bravely and heroically to save their fleet of ships and their fellow sailors. Over 2,200 sailors were killed in the attack, many while still sleeping in their bunks below decks. The largest loss of life came from the battleship USS Arizona where 1,177 of her crew were killed and entombed inside their ship.

Within an hour after the first wave of attacks ended, a second wave launched. The first wave came from the western side of the island while the second wave surprised everyone because it originated from over the mountains on the eastern side of the island. As sailors attempted to rescue their shipmates trapped from inside their burning ships and those thrown into the fuel, which was ablaze in the harbor, they were continuously attacked by the incoming bombers.

The first Naval Line Officer to die in World War II was Rear Admiral Isaac Kidd. He was killed on the bridge of the USS Arizona during the attack. His badly burned body was unrecognizable and his remains were only able to be identified by his Naval Academy class ring which was found melted to the ship’s deck plates. His son, Isaac Kidd Jr. was attending the US Naval Academy as a cadet during the attack. He also went on to become an Admiral. His grandson, Isaac Kidd III is currently a Captain in the US Navy. Americans back in the States woke up on Monday morning, December 8, 1941, to read the headlines in the newspapers that, “Japan Declares War on U.S.” On that morning, President Franklin Roosevelt delivered a speech to Congress and the world where he declared war on the Japanese. His address to Congress and the entire country started with, “Yesterday, December 7, 1941---a date which will live in infamy---the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval and air forces of the Empire of Japan.”

For how disastrous these attacks were on the United States Pacific Fleet, it could have been worse. You ask how could that be possible? The Japanese Commander, Admiral Nagumo, had planned this attack for months. Even though he was successful in destroying a substantial portion of the Pacific Fleet, much of the military infrastructure was left intact. He had hoped that the United States would surrender following these attacks but instead, he was only to “Wake a Sleeping Giant.” What he failed to destroy were the carriers, the largest and most effective warships in the fleet. These ships were out at sea during the attack and escaped unscathed. This allowed the US Navy to quickly counterattack with carrier-based warplanes against the elusive Japanese Naval Fleet. Without these carriers it would have been impossible for the US Navy to counterattack for at least a year or more.

The Japanese bombers failed to bomb the Navy oil supply tanks which held millions of gallons of fuel to supply the warships. The Japanese’ reasoning behind their failure to bomb these targets is that once they were bombed and caught fire, they would emit massive amounts of black smoke. This black smoke would obscure their targets from view and they would not be visible to attack. The third mistake that the Japanese made was by attacking on a Sunday morning. Yes, sailors were “sleeping in” and were killed but others survived because they were ashore on liberty for the weekend and in areas not under attack.

After President Roosevelt declared war, American industries re-tooled rapidly to build military equipment and supplies. Almost immediately, people enlisted in the various branches of the military. Factories were working around the clock to build armament, tanks, ships, supplies, and the infamous Jeep. Soon the American forces were on the offensive both in the Pacific and in the European Theater of Operations under General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On December 7, 2021, we will be remembering those killed in the attack at Pearl Harbor, the event that forced us to enter World War 2. We must remember all our American Patriots of “The Greatest Generation” who fought in this war, those who made the ultimate sacrifice with their life in the pursuit of freedom and those who returned home with the scars of battle, scars that they carried their entire life.

Will we ever forget this horrendous sneak attack? For those who experienced those events, it is impossible to forget. As time passes, those people pass on, memories fade, and history rewrites a new chapter. As American patriots, we must NEVER FORGET nor should we ever apologize for our actions. May we always remain a proud nation and be proud of our heroes who have allowed us to do so!

This Moment (Author Unknown)

I may never see tomorrow
There’s no written guarantee
And things that happened yesterday
Belong to history
I cannot predict the future
I cannot change the past
I have just the present moment
I must treat it as my last
I must use this moment wisely
For it soon will pass away
And be lost to me forever
As a part of yesterday
I must exercise compassion
Help the fallen to their feet
Be a friend unto the friendless
Make an empty life complete
The unkind things I do today
May never be undone
And friendships that I fail to win
They never more be won
I may not have another chance
On bended knee to pray
And thank God with humbled heart
For giving me this day.

Re: "The Halloween Which Wasn't"

"One of your best! Halloween was right up there with Christmas back in the 50s' for us kids. I remember the parade the town had, and the fun carrying a "pillow case" to collect enough candy (and if lucky a few nickels or dimes) to last a month. And it was safe! Times surely changed."
John "Flip"Phillips

"I found your story right on. Halloween is not like it used to be. We never had to worry about razor blades or pins inside the candies. "THEY" just took all the fun away. Today we don't find kids outside playing anymore. Growing up, we knew everyone on the block and surrounding streets. Today we may not know who lives next door! Times Are A Changing as Dylan said."

Eileen Ust (2nd from right), wife of the late and beloved Sayreville Recreation Director Jerry Ust, along with several family members, presented the Jerry Ust Trophy for the "Best In Show" to Mike Parfianowicz (r). Another trophy for "Best In Show" honoring the late Tommy Samuel, was presented to Mike Bailey.

The Ust family turned out for the great St. Stan's Car Show, which honored late Sayreville Recreation Director Jerry Ust / Tommy Samuel. The Car Show was the first at St. Stan's and a huge success, drawing 111 cars. Myia Williams Tapped to Be Coach for Newly-Created Men's Volleyball Program at Middlesex College

Middlesex College has appointed Myia Williams to be the coach of the new men's volleyball program, which is set to begin in Spring 2022.

The College was among 15 two-year institutions chosen for a $10,000 grant by the NJCAA Foundation and First Point Volleyball Foundation to start a new men's volleyball program.

Williams holds a bachelor of science in communication from Mitchell College and is a professional graphic designer.

She served as head volleyball coach for Immaculate Conception High School in Montclair.

In addition to her professional coaching experience, Williams brings to her new role the perspective of someone who has played competitively at the collegiate level.

She played on the women's volleyball team throughout her four years at Mitchell College, an NCAA Division III school.

Her love for volleyball can be traced back to her middle school where she was introduced to the sport.

"I picked up my first volleyball around 7th grade and haven't put it down since," she shared.

She credits her college major – communications – for playing an important part in her approach to coaching and team building.

"Communication is key if you want to have great chemistry with your team on and off the court," Williams stressed, adding, "If you can't have a conversation with someone then it's going to be hard to have a conversation on the court."

As she steps into her new position and prepares to put a team together, she says she is eager to work with students who are passionate about the sport.

"That's my biggest thing. Come ready to play, come ready to learn," she said. "We're going to have some ups and downs, but that's not going to defeat us. I like to tell my students that we didn't take a loss yesterday, we took a lesson. When we take a lesson, we learn something from it and come back better than what we were."

Arthritis Treatment
The Chiropractor's Role

The unforgettable fact about arthritis is that once a joint has experienced structural degeneration, little or nothing can be done to “heal” the damage. The role of chiropractic is one of providing our patients with a form of service that will take the stress from a joint making the patient’s life more comfortable. This is accomplished throughout a broad range of treatments, including manipulative techniques, heat treatments, education patients in proper posture while walking, sitting, sleeping, standing, and some diet control when undue weight puts too much pressure on over-taxed joints. Even though arthritis is a degenerative disease, we can play an important role in maintaining and increasing mobility. In treating elderly patients, we like to emphasize the point that stiffness and pain do not automatically go along with old age. Much of the pain and lack of mobility elderly persons experience can be alleviated through gentle, simple adjustments along with other therapeutic techniques. The reasons are simple. As one ages, the muscles responsible for maintaining the proper spinal alignment tend to lose their tone. As youthful elasticity decreases, we are more likely to experience health problems related to the spine’s nerves. When vertebrae become misaligned, stress is placed on muscles and nerves. Our techniques for correcting misalignments for the elderly are more gentle than those we would use for younger adults. Our methods of treatment are painless, both preventative and corrective in nature. We believe that feeling young is a matter of good health rather than physical age. If you’re a senior citizen and have never tried Chiropractic as a means for obtaining or maintaining an active lifestyle, why not call so that you can learn how Chiropractic can keep you active and healthy your entire life.

Fishing Flashes
By Teo "Weebles" Weber

Salt Water
Striped Bass fishing is now coming into its own with party and charter boats doing very well trolling and using jigs. Many of the fish are big, well over the 38 inch maximum size limit and had to be released. There are some Stripers being caught in the surf all over Monmouth County. The Beach Haven surf at LBI also has seen a few Stripers. A few small Bluefish and the usual junk fish like Skates and Dogfish are there too. In Raritan Bay fishing is good from a boat. Beach fishing is another story. I didn't see much action as I checked Cliffwood and Morgan areas. Most people I talked to didn't get many bites. I did see two Game Wardens at night at Morgan Beach. Some Flounder are present in the Shark River. The bag limit for Blackfish goes to 5 fish at 15 inches at mid month. Party boats are out to catch Sea Bass and Ling besides Blackfish. Some big Bluefish are still around and mixed in with the Stripers at times.

Fresh Water
Fall Trout stocking has taken place. My wife and I tried the lower Pequest in mid-October. All I did was make a lot of casts. She lost one and caught two nice ones of 14 and 17 inches. She had a lot of misses on worms. I tried the North Branch on Election Day for a while, but all I did was put in time. I did catch something that day, it was deer across my front fender with a lot of damage to my car. On Veteran's Day my wife and I tried our hand at catching a Landlocked Salmon at Tilcon Lake, but no such luck. I ended up with a small Pickerel.

16th Anniversary in Heaven
FRANK R. WOJTASZEK
NOVEMBER 29, 2005

GOD SAW YOU WERE GETTING TIRED
AND A CURE WAS NOT TO BE,
SO HE PUT HIS ARMS AROUND YOU
AND WHISPERED, "COME TO ME."
WITH TEARFUL EYES WE WATCHED YOU,
AND SAW YOU PASS AWAY.
ALTHOUGH WE LOVED YOU DEARLY,
WE COULD NOT MAKE YOU STAY.
A GOLDEN HEART STOPPED BEATING,
HARD WORKING HANDS AT REST.
GOD BROKE OUR HEARTS TO PROVE TO US,
HE ONLY TAKES THE BEST.
SADLY MISSED BY, WIFE, CHILDREN
& GRANDCHILDREN

There is truly only one thing that can be done once.....your loved one deserves the best!
