South Amboy State Of The City: Upgrades, Improvements And Bright Future

By Tom Burkard

On March 21st, South Amboy Mayor Fred Henry presented his State of the City Address, and it touched on the many accomplishments, upgrades, improvements, and future plans that are making the city shine above so many others throughout the state of New Jersey.

At the beginning of his address, the mayor told the crowd that "all of you will be a part of the first video recording of the State of the City Address, which will be posted on the city's TV station and website." He also mentioned other technological improvements including upgrading the fiber optic system in order to record council meeting so they may be viewed by all of South Amboy at various social media platforms. In addition, the city purchased 2 portable digital signs to be placed throughout town, and installed a permanent one in front of City Hall to better inform the public of upcoming events. The city website is constantly being updated for residents to gain better access to city information, forms, and bill paying.

Mayor Henry noted 3 very important and key position personnel changes at City Hall: new Business Administrator-Glenn Skarzynski, who has been in the post for a year, Francis "Mac" Womack is the new City Attorney, and Dan Balka is the new Chief Financial Officer. He also thanked former employees, for the work they did for residents; Stacey Kennedy, Angel Albanese, and John Lanza, who was with the city for over 30 years.

He praised the Police Department under Chief Darren LaVigne for going through some changes through a very rigorous police

South Amboy Holds Largest Parade Ever

By Tom Burkard

On Saturday, March 16th, the Irish came from everywhere to celebrate South Amboy's highly-rated St. Patrick's Day Parade. Even if you weren't of Irish descent, you were more than welcome to participate in "The Pleasant Little City's" biggest event of the year. The 2019 parade was in the words of Parade Committee Co-Chairperson Michael "Mickey" Gross, "The biggest ever with 22 bands marching, and it lasted an hour and a half." The Colonel D.B. Kelly Pipe & Drums was as always one of the most popular attractions performing, as they entertained parade-goers along the route.

Despite a little wind and chill in the air with temps hovering around 48 degrees, the parade route was lined with wall-to-wall people throughout town, with nearly everyone sporting some kind of green clothing or hats, or just about anything green to proudly show they were Irish and celebrating the big day. A lady from Woodbridge who was at the parade with her daughter, who lived locally, said, "I love the parade because I really like the bagpipes, and seeing people walking dogs, especially the Irish Setter."

As always South Amboy was the place to be, whether hanging with friends/family, or visiting long-lost friends/ family that you haven't seen in a long time, South Amboy's St. Patrick's Parade Day is a fantastic event everyone looks forward to each year. Congratulations to all who organized this tremendous event and also everyone who participated in making this year's parade a most memorable one.

O'Brien Will Not Seek Re-Election

By Tom Burkard

The Borough of Sayreville longest-serving mayor in history, Mayor Kennedy O'Brien, recently announced on Facebook that he will not seek re-election this year. In the post, he said, "This is my 20th year as Mayor, and it has been my high honor to have been given the responsibility to serve all the citizens of Sayreville. We have built a wonderful community we all call home." He continued, talking about his beloved wife of 32 years, and mentioned that "She was recently diagnosed with cancer, and is about to begin chemo and radiation therapy. Even in the face of adversity, Janice encouraged me to run this year for re-election. At this moment however, my place is by my wife's side, and I will sit out this re-election term. My only focus must be on the health of my wife. It is my intention, once Janice is cancer free, to return in 4 years and ask the people of Sayreville for their continued support." Mayor O'Brien graciously thanked the people of Sayreville for the support over the last 20 years, their continued prayers for Janice, and said, "I thank all the citizens of Sayreville for your faith, trust, and support you have granted me these past 20 years. It has been one of my life's greatest honors, and a very warm and humbling experience."

Governor Murphy Visits South Amboy YMCA

Governor Phil Murphy recently held a press conference at the South Amboy YMCA, and proposed a renewed Brownfields Redevelopment tax credit program as part of his vision for incentives reform. The Brownfields Tax Credit will serve to close project financing gaps in an effort to revitalize underutilized industrial properties while incentivizing the preservation of New Jersey's green spaces.

"The transformational power of New Jersey's formerly unused, contaminated industrial spaces is evident in South Amboy's Lower Broadway," said Governor Murphy. "Our Administration's reinvigorated Brownfields redevelopment tax credit will tap these vast resources, creating jobs, revitalizing communities, and recapturing the innovative spirit of New Jersey's history."

"Cleaner environments create stronger communities," said DEP Commissioner Catherine McCabe. "Brownfield redevelopment turns liabilities into thriving assets that improve the community and protect New Jersey's environment."

"Governor Murphy's vision for a Stronger and Fairer Economy prioritizes making catalytic investments in New Jersey communities, particularly in our cities and downtowns, which so often bear the legacy costs of industrial activity in the brownfields that inhibit development," said Tim Sullivan, CEO of the NJ EDA. "With this critical tax credit program, New Jersey will be able to put more of these sites back to productive reuse that will create jobs, attract private investment and fuel the innovation economy."

"Spurring economic development and the creation and retention of jobs is vital to the growth of our state," said Assembly Speaker Craig Coughlin. "As we work together to make investments in infrastructure, education and our communities, I look forward to working with Governor Murphy to ensure the revitalization of neighborhoods through redevelopment initiatives."

New Jersey's current Brownfields program co-administered by the Economic Development Authority, Department of Environmental Protection, and Division of Taxation. The State appropriated $14.8 million to the Brownfield Site Reimbursement Fund in FY2019. Under Governor Murphy's proposed legislation, appropriated funds would be phased out and replaced by competitive grant opportunities administered by the EDA and DEP.

Yearbook-Sayreville 1969

By Tom Burkard

It's hard to believe but it's been 50 years since the Sayreville War Memorial High School Class of '69 bid adieu to their alma mater. The wild 60's were close to an end, as freedom, rebellion and change in all phases of society seemed to dominate the front pages in daily newspapers, and the Vietnam War raged on. As the seniors reported for the first day of their final year in Sept., '68, great songs like "People Got To Be Free," "Hello I Love You," and "Born To Be Wild," could be heard on all the top radio stations. Some of the top teachers at SWMHS were: Maureen Shoemaker, J.H. Haley, John Ciszewski, Irene Arthur, John Felton. John Gutkowski was AD. The Student Council was comprised of Art Spiro-President; Lynn Mytnick-Vice President; Barbara Bosley-Sec.; Nancy Cipo-Treas. Sr. Class officers were Patricia Hubbs President; Richard Strugala-Vice President; Janet Hunkele-Sec.; Kathleen Olszewski Treas. And on the world scene, rumors that Paul McCartney was dead flooded the news media. Gail Sunski was President of the National Honor Society; Colette Dohn was President of the Future Teachers of America Club; John Hickey was Editor-In-Chief of Echo Lites; Greg Evigan, although not a senior, was the Drum Major. The Annual Junior-Senior Musical, "Kiss Me Kate," was a real crowd pleaser and ran from April 24-26, 1969 before sold-out crowds.

I was blessed to know many of the Sayreville '69 grads. I attended St. Mary's Grammar School with some, and others attended SMHS for a year or two before transferring. The ones I've known through either school, sports, or just from living in the area back then are: Thomas Armstrong, William Beattie, George Beck, Arthur Birmingham, Gretchen Brown, Linda Carney, Peter Coakley, Gail Conway, George Cozzi,

The sports program was fabulous, and the baseball club under Coach John Wortley finished with a super (20-7) record. Gary George was captain of the baseball nine, and also co-captain of the football squad with Tom Krasovich. Sayreville's first Field Hockey team in history finished (5-2-1) under Coach Marcia Westaby. Some of the standout senior athletes included: Gary George-1st Team All-County football, Ken Lyon, Greg Marzullo, Francis "Frank" Olszewski-1st Team All-County baseball pitcher, John Thorsen, Brian Kreiger.

One has to wonder how St. Mary's athletic teams would have done if these gifted performers had continued on and played at SMHS.

Sayreville War Memorial HS Class of '69 was off the charts in so many ways. This was an ultimate class with really fine people.

accreditation process with the purpose of improving the professionalism of the South Amboy Police Dept., and included rewriting and enacting the rules and regulations along with the policies and procedures. "The result is to elevate our department to Best Practice Standards which makes for a first class delivery of services to the citizens of South Amboy." In December, a team from New Jersey State Chiefs of Police Association visited South Amboy, audited records, viewed the communication center and radio system, inspected all functions, and more, while holding interviews with various personnel from the police department. No deficiencies were found and the city was awarded a formal certificate indicating that distinction. The mayor thanked Chief LaVigne, Sgt. Holovacko, and Sgt. Kanecke for helping to make this a success. He also introduced new officers, Timothy Kales, Patrick Kelly, and Gloriann Rutkowski. Henry said, "I wish to thank the entire police force and their families for being our peacekeepers and keeping us safe."

The mayor spoke about the value of homes in town, saying, "The median cost of a house in South Amboy today is $278,000, an increase of almost 11% from last year. Next year's projection is another increase of 8% to $304,000, a very good return on your investment." In 2017, municipal taxes increased by 1 cent or $27 for the year. In 2018, taxes also increased by 1 cent. In 2017, the city generated a surplus of $2.3 million, and in 2018-$2.4 million. As a result, Standard & Poor Global Rating upgraded South Amboy's rating 2 notches from A- to A+.

Recently, Mayor Henry presented a municipal budget to the city council, and they voted to introduce it with 0% increase. He went on to thank Public Works Superintendent Len Moffa and his fine crew for their excellent work, and mentioned the new bulk pickup system that has collected 90 tons of bulk garbage to date.

City Engineer Mark Rasimowicz has spearheaded many projects around the city, and also helped South Amboy get $1,623,500 in grants, an incredible savings for taxpayers. Henry thanked Freeholder Director Ron Rios for his and the Freeholders efforts to get Middlesex County and Conrail to repair the Hole-In-The-Wall, and also lower Main Street a county road, which has been in need of repairs for a long time.

Mayor Henry mentioned Governor Murphy's visit to South Amboy last week, and how he praised the city and developer who turned a very contaminated piece of land into a rehab/health center in Venetian, a rec area in the YMCA, and beautiful residential development in Woodmont Cove. Henry called Woodmont "our Michaelangelo turning a rejected, contaminated area into a masterpiece for South Amboy." He thanked Steve Santola and the Woodmont team, Eric Chubenko, Executive Director of the Redevelopment Agency, and Craig Coughlin, the agency's lawyer. The mayor said, "We have taken dormant, fallow, and contaminated land and changed it into a vibrant and living part of South Amboy. We now have Woodmont Cove, Venetian Healthcare, YMCA, Ryan Homes, the county park, Lighthouse Bay, a beautiful Middle/High School, and library, and Shoregate." He also introduced new Chairwoman of the Planning Board, Mary Szaro.

The PILOT program will revitalize what was McCormack Sand property, and an area along the waterfront that generated few tax dollars. Three renewable energy companies are extremely interested in the old power plant property. If negotiations are successful, it will provide jobs and another ratable for South Amboy.

City officials expect to have a shovel in the ground by September for the ferry project, and an operational ferry in the spring of 2020. Mayor Henry also praised the Historical Society of South Amboy, and mentioned activities they provided for the community last year, and an update on this year's coming events, while thanking President Mary Szaro for her nostalgic pictures shown at the State of the City Address.

The free summer program has expanded an extra 2 weeks and a third park was added. Volunteer leaders and coaches were thanked for all of their help.

This July South Amboy will again partner with Perth Amboy and Mayor Diaz to put on another spectacular fireworks display in Raritan Bay. The mayor thanked Co-Chairs Barry Rosengarten and Mickey Gross, and the fireworks committee.

The Green Team and Clean Community programs are getting underway with coordinator Jay Elliot organizing 2 beach cleanups this summer. The city has received thousands of dollars in grants for this project, and purchased a tractor and a rake to keep the beach clean, so more activities can take place there.

Senior programs continue to thrive, and summer trips have been expanded, seminars such as anti-scam presentations are conducted, and seniors are still taken to doctor visits within 10 miles of South Amboy. Kerry, Jackie and staff were thanked for their efforts.

The Municipal Alliance is up and running and the pre-teen dances have been a great success. Other planned events will include anti-drug and alcohol use and abuse seminars. The Sadie Pope Dowdell Library continues to provide education and entertainment. Everyday something new is happening at the library. He thanked Library Director Elaine Gaber and her very helpful staff. The library's 105th Birthday celebration is on March 28th.

Mayor Henry thanked Business Association President Jorge Gonzalez and Councilman Tom Reilly for their efforts "to make our business district successful." The fire department and first aid squad received high praise and appreciation from the mayor, and he asked if any young people would like to give back to their community and join the First Aid, which is growing smaller. He thanked Fire Chief Brian Tierney, First Aid President Gene Cox, and OEM Coordinator Mark Herdman, and all volunteers for their dedication and sacrifice they make to keep residents safe.

He congratulated all the honorees of the St. Patrick's Day Parade especially Grand Marshal Christine Noble, Irishman of the Year, Bill Henry, Mickey Gross and the entire Parade Committee "who put in a lot of hard work to make this a great day for South Amboy."

Kathy Kudelka, the mayor's secretary was thanked for all she does, "above and beyond what needs to be done." He also acknowledged former Business Administrator Camille Tooker, who has taken on the role of Confidential Aide to the Mayor. He said "the man with the most thankless job is our current Business Administrator Glenn Skarzynski, but I know what you do, and I thank you for keeping South Amboy on the move."

Others thanked by the mayor were his city council members: President Mickey Gross, Vice President Christine Noble, 1st Ward Councilman Brian McLaughlin, 2nd Ward Councilman Tom Reilly, 3rd Ward Councilwoman Zusette Dato.

Mayor Henry also thanked his family members: his wife Linda, daughter Kristen and her husband Daniel, and their child Elise Ann, daughter Erin, and son Fred III and his fiancée Anny.

"Gold Star" Local Kids Treated To Disney

(Photos/story submitted)

Lena and Gavin Perry, 7 and 6 year old siblings, were treated to a trip to Disney World in December. But it wasn't because they had a good report card or just wanted to see Mickey Mouse with their parents. It is because they are part of an elite group known as Gold Star Families: their father, John Perry, was a hero who was killed in action in Afghanistan.

The trip, known as "Snowball Express" was a gift of the Gary Sinise Foundation, founded by the actor who played Lieutenant Dan in the movie "Forrest Gump." The chief executive officer of the foundation, retired Air Force General Robin Rand said, "Through the Snowball Express program, we have the opportunity to serve the families of our fallen military heroes who have sacrificed so much for our great nation."

More than 1,000 children whose parents died in military service traveled from numerous airports around the country, to meet at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida for five days of fun and festivities. As Gary Sinise puts it, the children and other survivors can "build bonds with the only people who can truly understand their loss: each other." Besides enjoying Epcot and the Magic Kingdom, there were somber moments as well. Each family had a flag on display with their loved one's name on it, as a place to reflect and remember. But tears were soon changed to smiles when the families were able to parade into the park to meet their favorite characters and go on rides.

Staff Sergeant John William Perry grew up in South River and attended St. Stan's School in Sayreville. It was there that he met a girl who would years later become his wife, Julianne Good, daughter of his third grade teacher. He joined the Army in 2008 and married Julianne later that year. Their daughter Lena was born in Sayreville, while her dad was on his first deployment to Afghanistan. Gavin was born in Colorado, when John was stationed at Fort Carson. They then purchased a home near Fort Hood Texas, where the family still resides.

SSG Perry was tragically killed by a suicide bomber at Bagram Air Base in Afghanistan on November 12, 2016, just days after his 30th birthday. Besides his children, wife and dogs Kaden and Silas, he left behind many local aunts, uncles, cousins and friends who mourn his loss. Lena and Gavin's grandparents include Edna Mazur Pilch and her husband Stan, from Sayreville, and Kathy Fazekas Perry (SSG Perry's mother) from Old Bridge, who accompanied them on the Disney adventure.

OLV Students Advance In National Competition

Five OLV students created a plan to reduce the use of plastics in our waterways. The GeoChallenge Regional competition took place at Elms College in Chicopee, MA on March 29. At the regional competition, invited GeoChallenge teams were appraised and participated in a GeoChallenge Showcase. Results were too late for this issue, and will be mentioned in the next SA Times on April 27. (Photo/article submitted)

The GeoChallenge is an annual themed and standards-based competition from the National Geographic Society that challenges student groups in grades five through eight across the United States to develop a creative solution to a real-world problem. Students form teams—between four and six people—and respond to a problem, challenge, or critical issue by using research, collaboration, creativity, and communication to create and present real-world solutions, just like National Geographic Explorers. Teams with the best projects can advance to the regional and national levels. The 2018-19 GeoChallenge—Tackling Plastic!—invited students to investigate the urgent issue of plastic pollution in our waterways. Teams of students used important skills such as teamwork, research, innovation, critical thinking, and persuasive communication to work on this challenge while:

- Learning about watersheds and plastics in our lives and communities
- Telling a fact-based story about a plastics pollution problem and solution
- Designing and creating a map that shows the plastic pollution problem
- Creating a solution to prevent plastics from polluting our waterways
- Producing a dynamic video about their solutions

March In Like Lion

By Steve Schmid

We enjoyed a mild winter this season with above average temperatures and below average snowfall. March however came in like a lion this year as three inches of snow fell on Saturday, March 2, and 4 more inches fell on Monday, March 4. The snow events forced the closing of Raritan Bay Waterfront Park and created a snow day for students and teachers in the area. A cold snap kept the snow on the ground all week before rain and warming temperatures melted it away. We picked up more snow in March than during December, January, and February combined. The good news is that April is right around the corner with the promise of longer days and more spring flowers.

SA Times Spotlight: John Kobiernicki

By Tom Burkard

Remember St. Mary's Grammar School? Through the years, the school located on South Stevens Ave. and Second St. in South Amboy, served as a learning institution for thousands of youngsters from kindergarten through eighth grade, and now after a few different changes, it is the St. Mary Religious Education Program run under the watchful eyes of Director of Religious Education, John Kobiernicki, who was appointed to the position on September 1, 2018 after serving as Confirmation Instructor since 2009.

The last time the St. Mary sign was seen out in front of the building was in 2007, when St. Mary School closed its doors for the final time. Sacred Heart School took over the location from 2012-2016 before closing, and now the St. Mary's Religious Education Program is doing amazing things under Kobiernicki's guidance. The dedicated director started the St. Mary Youth Group in 2014, which is still going strong, and under his guidance runs fundraisers twice a year "To fund kids youth-related activities. It's so important getting youngsters to be more active doing recreational activities, spiritual, and community service."

The Director position entails many important job responsibilities including: hiring catechists; mentoring and developing catechists; background checks; registration for students; sacramental preparation for Reconciliation, Communion, and Confirmation; assisting teachers as needed; finding and retaining quality catechists; and much, much more.

The St. Mary Religious Education Program has an enrollment of 150 students from South Amboy and Sayreville, broken into two groups from grades 1-5, and also grades 6-8, and they meet once every week for meetings, which run an hour and a half. Many of these youngsters participate in the St. Mary Youth Group as well.

NEW FEDERAL AGENT APPOINTED

(Story submitted)

On February 21, 2019 Joseph M. Pizzillo of Parlin, graduated from 7-months of extensive training for the US State Department with the Diplomatic Security Service. This intensive training started at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Georgia for 4 months and continued for 3 months in West Virginia for the specialty security training all DSS agents must attend. Upon graduation, Joseph is assigned to the San Francisco, California Field Office.

Joseph graduated from St. Mary's High School in South Amboy in 2005. After graduation he attended Norwich Military University in Northfield, Vermont. At Norwich he participated in the Corps of Cadets with the United State Marine Corps. Upon graduation from Norwich he was Commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Marine Corps. Joseph served 7 years as a Marine Infantry Officer. During his enlistment Joseph was deployed several times to the Middle East and Eastern Europe. During his commission he advanced to the rank of Captain.

The Diplomatic Security Service is the law enforcement arm of the US State Department. It is the only US law enforcement agency with representatives stationed in nearly every county in the world.

If you attend Mass at St. Mary's, you've probably noticed some very young "ushers" passing the collection basket and taking up the gifts to be offered. Well, John Kobiernicki came up with this great idea, and oversees the youth partaking in this important phase of spiritual and community service. The students are also involved with reunions and student-assisted Masses at St. Mary Church.

John said, "I am a product of the Catholic School system, and happy to be able to give back and inspire children to grow in faith, and as they embark on the next chapter of their lives." He is also very proud that there are 12 new altar servers, and 3 of this year's Confirmation sponsors were students of his. Kobiernicki mentioned that "students do not have to pay for Diocesan Youth Day, as they raise the money from fundraisers." A very popular fundraiser is the cake sale, that the students run throughout the year, in back of the church following Masses. The fundraisers not only help the children, but if you look at the statue of the Blessed Mother near the front of St. Mary Church, it was beautifully painted, thanks to the funds that John and the students raised and saved for 3 years.

Kobiernicki was Associate Counselor of Kappa Delta Pi-National Education Honor Society at Mercer County Community College from 2008-2018, and also worked at Cheesequake State Park for 22 years, serving under Superintendent Al Gomolka for 12 of those years. Gomolka had high praise for John, saying, "He was extremely dependable with an excellent work ethic."

John Kobiernicki puts his heart and soul into this job every single day, and is really dedicated to the youth of St. Mary Parish, and cares that they are heading in the right direction in life. He summed it up by saying, "It is so nice to see the multiple successes the children are achieving."

Great job John! Keep it up!

Their main mission is to protect the Secretary of State daily and when traveling anywhere in the United States and foreign countries. The DSS Agents also provide security to the ambassador's stationed at embassies in all countries that the US has ties to. They also provide security to dignitaries visiting the United States. The DSS motto is "Protecting Americans All Over the World."

Joseph has embarked on an interesting and dangerous career. This endeavor will take him to far-off places, some nice and probably some not so nice. His job will be to put himself in harm's way to protect the person or persons he is assigned to. We wish him Good Luck and may God Protect him and his fellow DSS Agents.

Viva La Difference!!!!

By Elaine Holton Scott

Many of us are old enough to remember the low rumble of the Feminist Movement at its inception in the '60s, and the loud roar of the Feminist Movement in the '70s, when Bella Abzug and Gloria Steinem became household names. In 1968, the movement had started to be helped along by the Phillip Morris commercial slogan, "You've come a long way, baby"...which became a marketing sensation while giving "the Movement" a very stylish and somewhat defiant attitude. By the time Helen Reddy released her hit song, "I Am Woman" in 1972, more young females began questioning why they weren't treated by society as equals to men. Equality with men...that's really what the Feminist Movement had wanted. Since then, we really have come "a long way, baby," but for some reason, gaining equality isn't enough for everyone. Seems the goal of an ever-increasing number is to totally "dismiss" the differences between both genders. It just can't be done. It really doesn't matter if hospitals stop using male and female pronouns for newborns, or stop using pink and blue blankets to denote an infant's gender. That's all just a waste of time. Male and female bodies are different, the way we move, talk, and laugh are different. Even the way we think is different, as we're able to use both sides of our brains while males usually use one side of the brain at a time. Straight as an arrow; that's how men think. In strength, there is no comparison. The average male in his prime is 8 to 10 times stronger in upper body strength than the average female in her prime. Since the beginning of humankind, men and women have been "different"; that's just the way it is.

So, here, I am wanting to applaud the

Local Author Writes New Book For Children

Author Tama Blake breaks into the children's book scene with a charming tale about a unique Siamese kitten's adoption adventure in the book, Ziggy the Rescue Kitty Gets a New Home.

Throughout the scenes in the story readers learn about the animal adoption process and the importance of it, which were the main themes Tama aimed to address in Ziggy the Rescue Kitty Gets a New Home.

"You don't need to spend a lot of money to get a great kitten, cat or puppy or dog they are available at your local shelter. Pedigree or not you can find your special pet through adoption," she says.

This is a beautiful story with colorful illustrations, Ziggy the Rescue Kitty Gets a New Home will keep children coming back for more and perhaps even begging their parents to adopt a new furry friend.

A PRAYER FOR HEALING

Lord, you invited all who are burdened to come to You. Allow your healing hand to heal me. Touch my soul with Your compassion for others. Touch my heart with Your courage and infinite love for all. Touch my mind with Your wisdom, that my mouth may always proclaim Your praise. Teach me to reach out to You in my need. Help me to lead others to You by my example. Most loving heart of Jesus, bring me health in my body and spirit so that I may serve You with all my strength. Touch gently with this life that you have created. Amen -T.B.

role of the male, the way it was; the way it is; and the way it'll always be. Believe me, I'm not referring to the cheaters, the sleazebags and the abusers...I'm referring to the majority of males...good men who live and have lived honorable and decent lives. I'm referring to men who had worked their hearts out and continue doing so to provide for their families. I'm referring to the men who fought in all the wars and are still fighting in them, this time with the assistance of females, to preserve and protect our country. I'm referring to the cemeteries here and abroad which are filled with the bodies of soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice in wars not of their own making. I'm referring to men who have done "grunt work" all of their lives to earn a paycheck... physical labor for 8 hours a day and longer in all kinds of weather. I'm referring to men in the past who had worked their entire shifts in unairconditioned factories with the heat hot enough to cook their brains. I'm referring to men who did and are currently doing all the work requiring strength and brute force because it's what's expected of them. I'm referring to all the men through the ages who believed in the chivalrous attitude of "women and children first." I'm referring to all the men who have protected women...who put their lives on the line to do so. I'm referring to the male gender...so wonderfully different than that of females like myself.

So, let's knock off all the male bashing including the stupid anti-pronoun business gaining attention. Let's give respect to the American male instead. Viva La Difference!!!! We wouldn't be here or even want to be here without you.

The Smoke Column

By Ex-Chief Richard Kosmoski, MS

Training for firefighters is not a once and done requirement. Each year firefighters must recertify on four mandatory subjects. This is in addition to any technical certifications that firefighters hold above and beyond what is mandatory. The four areas that recertification is mandatory are: Right-To-Know; Hazardous Materials; Blood Borne Pathogens; and Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus mask fit testing.

The Right-To-Know program provides information on the different products and chemicals that a person can encounter in their work environment. It also provides contact information for additional information when questions arise as to the safe handling of a product and where necessary resources may be obtained.

The Hazardous Materials program can go into many different directions. Sometimes new and dangerous chemicals are discussed as to handle them safely when they are outside their containers. Most importantly is the ability to determine when and actual hazardous material incident is occurring. Every firefighter is trained to an Awareness and Operations level of hazardous material training. This provides them with the knowledge to determine that a hazardous material has occurred and what steps and procedures they must take in order to be safe and protect the people and the environment that is involved. At this level they are not trained to take any offensive measures in securing the incident. Just knowing that there is a hazardous materials incident is enough for them to call for additional specialized help in the form of the Middlesex County Hazardous Materials Response Team. This team is a specialized group of individuals who respond to the scene with the necessary equipment and manpower to render the area safe and/or to take precautions to do so. If additional help is needed, they make the call for outside environmental clean-up companies to respond.

The Blood Borne Pathogens segment of the training teaches firefighters how to protect themselves when they come upon victims that are sick, injured, or bleeding. They learn the different techniques to rescue and medically treat these individuals without encountering any of the victim's bodily fluids. They learn how to properly dispose of any items that may have become contaminated while in the process of treating these victims. Contaminated items may include the victims clothing, medical equipment and supplies, or even the rescuers personal protective clothing. These items must be cleaned and decontaminated before they can be placed back in service or they must be disposed of properly and be replaced with new sterile equipment.

The Self Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) mask that every firefighter wears when they enter a contaminated atmosphere or a smoke filled structure must fit properly to the contour of the wearers face. An extensive test is done on everyone every year. The mask must have a tight seal around the entire face, not allowing exhaled breaths or the supplied breathing air to escape or to allow outside contaminated air to enter. The firefighter goes through a series of segments where different head movements take place while breathing through the mask. This determines if the mask always stays in place when the firefighter is moving his/her head in various positions during firefighting operations. The firefighter must be clean shaving during the test and when wearing the mask under actual firefighting conditions. Otherwise, poison gases, smoke and other toxins can enter the mask and ultimately the respiratory tract while breathing in these atmospheres. The mask is so designed that a constant positive pressure is built into the supplied air system to help keep out some contaminants when the firefighter takes a breath. This is only a secondary safety measure to a tightly seal of the mask itself.

Training is constantly taking place in your local fire departments to help keep your firefighters safe and knowledgeable on the dangers they face in protecting you and your communities.

Raritan Bay Funeral Service

If you are from South Amboy, and drive down Bordentown Avenue, you may have noticed some changes and a flurry of activity at the address of 241.

This piece of property was purchased by Joseph Freeman of Keyport, NJ in an effort to bring a funeral home with traditional values along with traditional funerals, to the community, one family at a time.

Joseph started in his profession as a livery driver working for local funeral homes until he was inspired to provide his own quality and caring services for families who have lost loved ones. Having worked in the field since 2006, he eventually expanded his business to further help families. Acquiring one county contract at a time he began handling the transport of human remains for the Counties of Middlesex, Monmouth and Mercer for the Medical Examiner's office and over 100 funeral homes.

After building his company to serving over 100 funeral homes and three counties, and much hard work, in August of 2015, Raritan Bay Funeral Service was born and the property purchase was complete on November 16, 2018. It was at that time Joseph asked Matthew to join the family business managing Raritan Bay Funeral Service.

In November of 2018, the transformation of what looked to be an abandoned funeral home began, beginning with a new sign out front to notify the community "we are here for you". The interior of this facility has already been transformed to warm but light tones of colors of blue, tan and white paint along with ocean themed decor. When sitting in the Gathering Room, it is very comforting to any family and very easy to forget you are in a funeral home.

Soon to come to this facility will be some remodeling of the outside of the building and a future parking lot that is already in the architectural and engineering phase of this transformation.

At Raritan Bay Funeral Service, we offer our home to you - a comforting and inviting place to gather in remembrance and celebration of lives lived well. Established in August of 2015 by Joseph Freeman and his son Matthew we bring together decades of experience, caring for families of all cultural backgrounds and diverse walks of life.

Matthew Freeman

Matthew J. Freeman, Joseph's son and Manager of Raritan Bay Funeral Service, was born in New Brunswick, NJ in 1986 to Joseph and Tracy Freeman who were both raised in Edison, NJ until they started a family in Laurence Harbor over 30 years ago.

Matthew was raised in Laurence Harbor and after graduating from Old Bridge High School he joined the United States Marine Corp. Once complete of his military duties he then decided to continue his education and get a well-deserved Funeral Director License at Mercer County Community College, graduating with a degree in Applied Science. Matthew then married Julia Mulligan of South Amboy, had a child Damien, and moved into the funeral home to make himself accessible to the families we serve at any given moment.

Today, we pledge to serve all of New Jersey, and the surrounding areas, proudly, and with the highest level of dignity and respect to all the families we serve. It would be the pleasure of Raritan Bay Funeral Service and its staff to be able to meet with the community anytime. As Joseph always says, "My house is your house", come for a visit anytime, to see what we can do for you and your family, and your funeral related needs.

SA Times Writer Honors Officer Chip

By Tom Burkard

SATimes feature writer Clem Skarzynski honored his close friend Charles "Chip" Blaszas of the Sayreville Police Dept. who recently passed away. Skarzynski wrote a long, eloquent and beautiful Proclamation for Chip, which he presented to Mayor Kennedy O'Brien and the Council, and was read by the mayor with the help of Chip's two young grandchildren Marissa and Mason at a recent Borough of Sayreville council meeting.

Clem recently shared his thoughts and feelings about Officer Chip Blaszas, saying, "Chip and I were close friends, and worked together for the Spezzi family. I was always so impressed with his work as the Dare Officer with the Borough's police department and school system. He put so much effort into helping "His Kids" (as he called them) understand the pitfalls and dangers of the growing drug abuse epidemic in our country and borough. He was known as Officer Chip, his kids thought so highly of him, and respected him and his knowledge and teachings of Drug & Alcohol abuse. The love and compassion he had and demonstrated with his own family, overflowed to his kids with the same passion. Whenever one of his kids became a statistic, he took it so hard, with such sadness. He had quite a heart, and left that impression with all those who knew him! If you didn't like Chip, there was something wrong with you.

I just wanted to express all of this with a Proclamation, so I just sat down and wrote all of his love of family and kids, and what he's given to his community as a Police Officer, and most importantly as the D.A.R.E. Officer, and to have it all remembered within the Borough with an Official Proclamation that is now recorded in the Borough history and records. He deserved it and so much more! The Proclamation will soon hang in the Borough's UES school, where Officer Chip worked and taught his kids, to remind all who see it, what good can come from one person who cared!"

Clem also said, "My sincerest thanks to Mayor Kennedy O'Brien, Borough Clerk Theresa Farbaniec, and Nicole Waranowicz, from the Clerk's Office, for all of your help and guidance on how to "Create and Write-up a Proclamation," and for doing such a beautiful job on its presentation to the family. Thank you all."

"King Of The Surf Guitar"- Dick Dale

By Clem Skarzynski

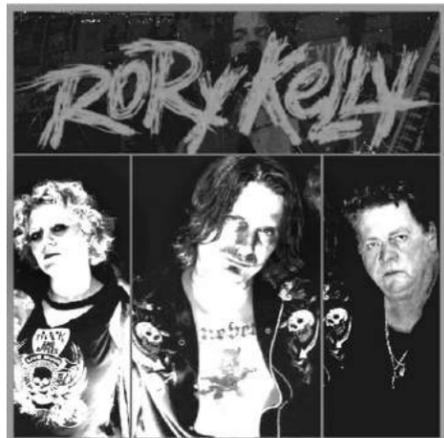

R.I.P. Mr. "King of the Surf Guitar," Dick Dale, who without any disagreement, was the ultimate King of the "Surf Era," and it's "reverb soaked" guitar riffs!

JBL'S, volume to ten +. The only way to get your "riff'across"! All of us "oldsters" owe a lot to Dick for his style of playing that kept us "learning" as 12-13 year old rockers! No, The Beach Boys didn't invent "Surf Music" ....Mr. Dick Dale did! We could only "copy" that sound the best we could! Thank you Dick, for your playing, conversation and "words of wisdom" telling me to "Keep Playing Clem." I'll never forget that advice! Now go destroy another Dual Showman....R.I.P.!

I had the extreme pleasure of meeting and chatting with Dick, at the Asbury Lanes Show June 1, 2007, and what a down to earth true "Gentleman!" You'd never believe he destroyed at least 50 Fender Dual Showman Amps in his career of albums/movies/shows, etc. Using at least 2 of the Amps, 100 watts each, with 2, 2x15 cabinets, loaded with

Elite Guitarists-The legendary Dick Dale (r) met and chatted with SA Times feature writer/master guitarist Clem Skarzynski at Asbury Lanes following Dick's show June 1, 2007. (Photos by Brian Stratton)

Rory Kelly and his band will be coming to New Jersey on July 12th to rock the house at Ryan's Pub & Sports Bar in Monroe, and on July 13th at the South Stevens Pub in South Amboy, don't miss this amazing band in action!

The youth was a bit jittery, missing his first 3 tosses, but settled down to put on a memorable performance, connecting on his last 42 shots in a row! The SRO crowd went wild, and Sayreville A.D. Vince Abbatiello Sr. went into the lockers and asked John to shoot 5 more, as an encore. He calmly sank all 5, while the runner-up, Bobby Kopperwats of Woodbridge missed 3 of 5. The Hoffman ace finished with an unbelievable 47-50, 47 in a row, and the Foul Shooting Championship. He went on to make 2nd team All-County in basketball, and 1st Team All-State, and All-County in baseball. After graduation John played professional baseball in the Pittsburgh Pirates organization.

South Amboy native and former Florida Marlins manager Jack McKeon (r) is pictured with a young and talented slugger Giancarlo Stanton back in 2011, when Stanton played for McKeon. Both men have moved on, McKeon, as a senior advisor to the general manager of the Washington Nationals, and Stanton to a starring role with the New York Yankees, where he blasted 38 home runs and had 100 RBI in his first season in pinstripes. Yankee fans are hoping for a 50-home run season from Giancarlo this year, and Jack McKeon fans are praying for Jack to get a chance to manage the Nationals for one-game, and become the oldest man in the history of MLB to manage at 88 years old. Best of luck to both gentlemen! (Photo/story by Tom Burkard)

Tom shared the following memories of that big game and photo. "I was pleasantly shocked and surprised to see my young self pictured on page 16. I had never ever seen that particular photo before. I would like to explain some details about the scene captured. The date was Feb. 2, 1962, and I was driving

Last month's classic photo from 1964 titled "It Will Never Fit," which showed St. Mary's star center Joe Chodkiewicz holding a gigantic basketball up to a basket in St. Mary's gym, was taken by one of the greatest sportswriters/photographers ever, Ron Kukulski, who according to Joe Chodkiewicz was working for The Perth Amboy Evening News at the time. Ron later went on to become the tabloid's Sports Editor, and then a highly-successful career with The Sun-Sentinel, Florida's largest daily newspaper.

It was a thrilling win in front of a loud full-packed crowd, that not a single more sardine could have squeezed in. I scored 9 points and shot a perfect 7-for-7 from the foul stripe. Playing big roles in the win were teammates Jack Kreiger, Joe Jankowski, Jay Derent, Bob Suminski, and Bill Tibbitt."

1939: A Big Year in South Amboy Sports

Hoffman Wins Basketball Title

Hoffman High's 1938-39 basketball state championship team was undoubtedly one of the finest in the school's history. Coach Eugene "Jimmy" Dobrzynski's charges racked up an impressive 24-4 record, to this day the best-ever at the Hoffman/South Amboy HS. During this time period, most games were low-scoring, because of the center jump after each basket that was made. Defense was the key, and Hoffman excelled like few others could back then. The Guvs finished the regular season at 20-4, and opened the Group II state tourney by ripping Rumson, 35-25. Manasquan fell prey to the fired up John Streeters, in a tight 31-28 tussle. In the overall South Jersey final Hoffman annihilated Carteret, 54-27. A powerful Wildwood provided some stiff competition in the Group II final, as they had the Purple & Gold down by 6 at halftime. The fighting Governors pulled it all together, and emerged with a 28-24 victory, and the coveted Group II State Championship. The starting 5 for the '39 champions were: center: Chet Sprague; guards: Capt. Ernie Read and Fred Henry; forwards: Andy Dobrzynski and Carl Marks. Super subs were: Wally Wood, Gene Croddick, Clarence Bubaltz, John "Bunker" Kelly, Bill Richmond, Wilson Huff, Pete Ewtuschek, Elton Selover, and Hammell. The top 4 scorers for the year were: Sprague 266, Dobrzynski 240, Marks 201, Read 152.

Eagles Win 3 Baseball Crowns
Coach John Zdanewicz's 1939 St. Mary's

baseball nine was a talented group of young athletes - true champions. The Saints won the city baseball title over Hoffman, 11-9 and 8-7. They didn't stop there. Against St. Peter's, Allie Clark turned in a superman like offensive performance, going 6 for 6 with 5 rbi's as the Eagles romped 11-6 to take the Middlesex County Parochial Schools title. Sophomore pitching ace, Joe Conroy picked up the victory.

Johnny Z.'s boys also were awarded the Group II Prep School state championship for the second consecutive year. Superstar, soph shortstop, Allie Clark, who went on to major league fame with the Yankees, led the champions with a sizzling .449 avg., 35 hits, and tied for the homer lead with catcher Bill "Smokey" Ryan with 3 home runs. Ryan stung the ball for a .375 mark, and topped the team with 23 runs and 3 triples. First sacker, Walt "Kelly" Grembowicz hit .373 and had the most doubles with 6. Standout outfielder, John "Mikey" Carroll drilled 25 hits, scored 22 runs, stroked 5 doubles, and batted a lofty .368. Ace pitcher, soph Joe Conroy was (7-1), and could really hit, drilling 24 hits for a .348 avg. Jack McNamara walloped the ball for a .340 avg. and excelled on defense. #2 hurler Frank "Trip" Cheeseman had a fine (3-1) record. Other talented starters on this club were: Bernie Mackiel, Joe Rush, Tom Zebro, and Steve Schultz. Ready reserves were: F. Donnola, J. Stolte, F. Shafnacker, E. Zamorski, E. Nycz, John "Bing" Miller, Creed, Szaroleta, Joe "Scoop" McCarthy.

YMCA of Metuchen, Edison, Woodbridge & South Amboy's Colonia Learning Center Receives a 4-star Rating from New Jersey's Quality Rating Program

State-Administered Program Raises the Standard of Quality Child Care and Early Learning Across New Jersey.

Colonia Learning Center, an affiliate of the YMCA of Metuchen, Edison, Woodbridge & South Amboy and the first Star-Rated learning early childhood program in Woodbridge Township, received a 4-star rating for their successful completion of the rigorous, research-based Grow NJ Kids quality rating program.

Grow NJ Kids is New Jersey's Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS). It offers child care and early learning programs access to training, professional development, staff scholarships for continuing education and targeted technical assistance. Professional raters visit the program to review quality standards and then program participants receive ratings – up to five stars – by meeting an extensive list of quality benchmarks.

More than 40 states across the country have a form of QRIS. In New Jersey, the program is administered by the Departments of Children and Families, Education, Health, and Human Services.

The rating will help further the school's mission to provide quality child care for all children.

"This rating will establish Colonia Learning Center, an affiliate of the YMCA of Metuchen, Edison, Woodbridge & South Amboy, as a high-quality learning early childhood program in Colonia and neighboring towns in Woodbridge. I am extremely proud of the staff that work hard to give our children the highest quality care and education every day." Cindy Shields, Senior Child Care Director.

"Grow NJ Kids offers resources to help educate parents on the importance of quality child care and early childhood education," says Andrea Breitwieser, Grow NJ Kids Coordinator. "It also gives parents and families the tools needed to find programs that will make the most of their kids early learning experiences."

Colonia Learning Center should be proud of their rating, as participation in Grow NJ Kids indicates they provide a higher standard of care, exceeding New Jersey's licensing standards, Breitwieser said.

Colonia Learning Center, located at 400 Inman Avenue in Colonia, provides high quality care and education for children ages 2 ½ through 13: offering Preschool and Kindergarten readiness programs, School Age Child Care for all Colonia elementary schools as well as Colonia Middle School, and various enrichments. You can learn more by visiting the Center.

Chairlift Dedication At Sacred Heart

Deacon Serge Bernatchez (l) reads a prayer at the dedication of the new chairlift in Sacred Heart's Memorial Hall. Also pictured is Sacred Heart Seniors President Mary Ann Szczepanik (c) and Jim Hoehman (r).

The chairlift will be an excellent aid for people to get to the hall, which has so many stairs to climb.

New Chairlift A Reality

By Tom Burkard

The stairs at Sacred Heart Memorial Hall are a pretty steep climb for anyone, and even tougher for others, but Seniors President Mary Ann Szczepanik had a dream, which was inspired by an idea from Father Marion, to put in a chair lift, and after much hard-work, dedication and organization, managed to make this a reality.

Mary Ann, in her speech at the dedication, thanked the many people and local organizations who held fundraisers, to help support the financing of the project, which cost $14,000, citing the Sacred Heart Seniors, South Amboy K of C #426, Jack from the Keyport IHOP, Rosary Society, Council of Catholic Women, architect Vince Patel, Rocco Cuoco, Deacon Serge, and Jim Hoehman "Our biggest contributor which put us at our goal. Jim said to me, if his mother were alive, she probably would be able to use the chairlift, hence the dedication to his mother's memory."

South Amboy Bars: 50 Years Ago And Today

By Tom Burkard

In 1969, The City of South Amboy was featured in a News Tribune story about its many bars. The article began with "Every city has something it's famous for. Hollywood has movie stars, New York has the Empire State Building, and South Amboy has bars."

Back then, according to the writer, South Amboy had 36 bars and 8 liquor stores, and it also mentioned that "back in 1963, it was listed in Ripley's Believe It Or Not as the city with the most taverns per square mile." This statement has never been proven true, as many local historians have researched it, and came up empty without any definite proof.

Most of the bars in existence in '69 were issued licenses during World War II, when the city's harbor was frequented by Navy ships, which would tie up in the Raritan Bay for inspection before heading out to sea. In 1947, the state passed a resolution to regulate the number of bars in one town, according to the number of residents living there. Since that time, no new taverns were established even though existing bars and their ownership changed hands frequently.

South Amboy's Mayor 50 years ago was J. Peter Rush, who said, "There's not much we can do about all the bars in South Amboy, because the licenses were obtained before the state passed its law" He also said that he realized that the town was way over the limit of bars for its population, but "That's the way it is. I really have no opinion for or against them."

Edward O'Leary was South Amboy Police Chief at the time and said, "The Police Department has very little trouble with the local bars and package goods stores. The businesses for the most part are law abiding and nothing takes place out of the ordinary."

Fast forward 50 years to today, and South Amboy has approximately 11 bars/restaurants and 4 liquor/convenience stores that sell liquor.

How many bars/liquor stores do you remember from 1969? Can you help us add to the following list? Let us know if you think of any other establishments we missed. Here's what we came up with: Bottle Stop, Cloverleaf, Hillcrest Inn, Pelican's, Jerome's, Anton & Chuck's, Ridgeway Tavern, Roddy's Tavern, Burdak's Tavern, Mike's Tavern, Main Liquors, Bay City Liquors, Spud's, White Eagle, Gay 90's, Wonder Bar, Gaslight Lounge, Romeo's, Red's Package Goods, Ogan's, Frank's Cafe, Fritz's, The Corner Pub. Looks like we identified 20 bars, and 3 liquor stores, and hope you can add to the list.

Coughlin, Grayzel, Metuchen Bank Win YMCA Awards

The YMCA of MEWSA will be holding its Annual Dinner on May 1, 2019 at 6:00 PM at the Pines Manor in Edison. This event is a longstanding tradition that celebrates the highlights of the YMCA of MEWSA, now in its 98th year of service to the Greater Middlesex County community. The Annual Dinner will feature a recap of the year's activities and present the Charles S. Edgar Memorial Award and Peter J. Barnes, Jr. Community Champion Award to deserving members of the community who support and further the YMCA's goals. A new award has been added this year, the Community Partner Award, which is being presented to Metuchen Savings Bank.

The recipient of the Charles S. Edgar Memorial Award is Jan Grayzel. This award is given to an individual who has greatly served the youth of the community, exemplifies community spirit, has contributed to the community through a variety of organizations and in a variety of roles and is responsive to and interested in the work of the YMCA. Jan has been on the YMCA Board of Directors for 28 years, and has served in many capacities. She chaired the Metuchen Branch for 10 years, and has been Vice-Chair of the Association Board for the last 4 years. Jan has also served on the Board Governance Committee for the last 15 years and has also chaired the Edgar Award Committee for the last four years. Her volunteerism began when her children, Daniel and Rebecca, started attending public school in Metuchen. She became a class parent and also served as president of the PTO and PT Council. Jan is a Certified Personal Trainer and Certified Health Coach, and has a wellness business in Metuchen.

The Peter J. Barnes Jr. Community Champion Award will be presented to Assembly Speaker Craig Coughlin. This award is given to an individual who has a legacy of community service, is responsive to and interested in the work of the YMCA, serves as an example for others of leadership, integrity and the core values of the YMCA: caring, honesty, respect and responsibility. Coughlin has served with the New Jersey General Assembly since 2010 where he represents the 19th Legislative District. He has served as Speaker of the New Jersey

General Assembly since 2018. He is also a partner on the law firm Rainone, Coughlin, Minchello. Coughlin has been very active within his hometown community of South Amboy, serving on the Board of Education from 1983 to 1987 and the South Amboy Borough Council from 1987 to 1993. He is also instrumental in running the annual Bowl For Hunger fundraiser, which has raised over $180,000 in the last nine years for local food banks. He worked as an attorney before serving as a municipal court judge for Edison Township in 2005. Some of his major accomplishments include sponsoring the bill to gradually increase the minimum wage to $15, spearheading the efforts to advance a package of anti-hunger bills, ending surprise out-of-network medical bills, introducing legislation to provide tax credits to businesses who expand or modernize their manufacturing plant or machinery, legislation to expedite and prioritize the remediation and reuse of vacant and underused public property and legislation that would allow local, county and school governments to shop for the most affordable health insurance coverage for their employees.

Metuchen Savings Bank is being honored with the first time ever Community Partner award. The Community Partner award celebrates and recognizes community organizations who have made significant contributions to the YMCA and the community. Metuchen Savings Bank has a long history of strength, stability and service to Metuchen and the surrounding communities. It has been instrumental in supporting the YMCA of MEWSA, sponsoring many of their events and fundraisers and serving as major advocates to their Annual Support Campaign. The award will be accepted by Katherine Liseno, President & CEO of Metuchen Bank.

The recipients will be honored at the 2019 Annual Dinner of the YMCA of Metuchen, Edison, and Woodbridge & South Amboy on Wednesday, May 1st, 2019 at 6:00 PM at the Pines Manor in Edison, NJ. The cost is $80.00 per person. Raritan Valley YMCA Swimmer Becomes 5-time State Champion

East Brunswick's Katherine Kennedy won 5 events in the age 10 & Under Division at the New Jersey YMCA State Championships.

As the last weekend in February began, there was a good chance that Katherine Kennedy might win the first individual state title in over 10 years for East Brunswick's Raritan Valley YMCA Riptide swim team. The suspense didn't last long, as Kennedy won the first event held in the 10 & under age group. Twenty minutes later, she won again. By Sunday night, she had won 5 times. No one else in her division won more than 2 of the meet's 11 individual events.

12 & under YMCA States, held February 22nd to 24th at Ocean County YMCA in Toms River, brings together the very best swimmers from 27 different YMCAs in New Jersey. Qualifying times are extremely selective, as less than 20% of competitive swimmers achieve times to attend the meet each year. The 10 & under girls age division featured 11 individual events for approximately 150 of the state's best young athletes. Kennedy stood out from the pack, winning the 50, 100, and 200 Free (27.60, 59.42, 2:14.81) as well as 100 and 200 individual medley (1:08.64, 2:29.84). She also added a second-place in 50 Fly (30.03).

"She probably had a shot to win in some other strokes as well, but you are only allowed to enter 6 events maximum. It's hard to choose for her because she's very well-rounded," said Brian Rose, RVY Riptide head coach. "It's unbelievable how she keeps getting better by the week. Your best swimmer to begin the year is rarely your most-improved swimmer by the end of the year, but that's Katherine. She keeps coming to practice with a sense of maturity and purpose. She's one of the few younger kids for whom I could give them a written practice, and they'll keep the whole lane on task even if a coach isn't instructing them the entire time."

Several other swimmers for RVY Riptide earned point-scoring finishes (top-16) at the meet. Riptide loaded up on points in the freestyle events, getting scores from East Brunswick's Isabella Loufek (15th in 200 Free, 2:35.02) and East Windsor's Elizabeth Molinelli (14th in 200 Free, 2:34.88; 15th in 100 Free, 1:09.33). Kaileigh Kennedy finished 10th in 100 Free with 1:08.11 and 8th in 200 Free with 2:27.75, making the Kennedy sisters the two all-time fastest 10 & under girls in 200 Free over the 24-year history of the RVY Riptide swim team.

Molinelli, Loufek and the Kennedy sisters combined to finish 3rd in the 200 Free Relay, an unusually high finish in a meet normally dominated by larger YMCAs. The 200 Medley Relay team of the Kennedys, Molinelli, and South Amboy's Erin Noble finished 8th.

Joey Guadagnino, age 9 from North Brunswick, finished 9th in the Boys 10 & under 50 Breast. Guadagnino is more than a year younger than most of the event's competitors, and began the day seeded 33rd.

"I love watching the 10 & unders and the 12 & unders compete at this meet," said Rose. "They have a level of professionalism toward their practices and races, you would never believe how young they are. They push themselves in ways that many adults would back down from. Swimming develops incredible people. And we have a real team here. This is not an individual sport. We've got a lot of very talented young kids who will be pushing each other to become better for years to come."

Tryouts for next winter's swim team will be held in July and are open to swimmers age 5 and up. Swimmers looking to prepare for the tryout, or the summer season, can sign up now for Riptide's "Spring Fling" training program, which starts in April. More details are at rvyriptide.org. Non-swimmers can learn to swim by attending Raritan Valley YMCA swim lessons or joining the Raritan Valley YMCA summer camp, details at raritanvalleyymca.org.

A 50-60's Walk Down Broadway

By Retired Colonel Dan Cheeseman

It's 1957 in a small New Jersey town referred to as the "Pleasant Little City." I'm at the corner of Broadway and Bordentown Ave. looking north toward Main St. It's a simple time; a time of good and bad-but mostly good (post-WW2 and Korea but Viet Nam is starting). South Amboy is a melting pot of cultures, religions, and ethnicities. It's a railroad hub for the Jersey Shore and has a deep anchorage for barges and oil tankers in the Raritan Bay. Broadway reflects the core of South Amboy and many of the residents make their living working in and owning the stores and markets on Broadway. Our dads work in the surrounding plants, in the city itself or commute to New York, while many of our moms are employed by Komars, a clothing manufacturer, located in town. It's a safe city—a city where a 7-8-year old can visit the stores along Broadway and fear no harm. If you need help, there's always a store owner who knows your family, and will call your mom or walk you home. It is a simpler time! So let's start our walk down Broadway!

Our first stop is the US Post Office, situated in a building owned by Mr. Munn, an entrepreneur who owns the Raritan Diner and built Munns Village. Nana always needs something mailed. As I walk in, I see Mr. Brinamen and Postmaster Stader at the front window. Since they both know my dad, our conversations often center on baseball.

Our next stop is the Starlight Diner situated a short distance from the post office. A hamburger and sandwich joint that always has a daily Blue Plate Special. It's a typical east coast diner with comfort food.

Off I go across the street to Eagle Market, the market for the southeast side of town, owned by Bill Brown and his wife Hilda. I see Mr. Brown, and as always, he says, "Hi Young Trip, whatever you need, see Audrey." Audrey has been behind the counter since as long as I can remember. The Eagle Market sells lunch meat, other groceries, and household items. Next door is the Eagle Package Store, a liquor store that sells all kinds of spirits and keeps this part of town refreshed!

From there I come upon a South Amboy landmark—the Cloverleaf Bar. The Cloverleaf has a marching string band, so you never know when there might be a parade on the south end of Broadway.

Across the street, by the railroad tracks, is English's Sunoco. It's owned by Frank "Horse" English, a local gas station entrepreneur. For years "Horse" has been running the Little League All-Star Team and many of us play for him as Little Leaguers. Wow, in one block one is able to mail a package, get groceries, pick up some wine, fill up the gas tank and have a bike tire fixed. It's a simpler time.

Next highlight along the way is a very cool little store called Joe Smokes. It's a smoke shop that sells penny candy, cigarettes, papers, soda, and hand-dipped Dolly Madison Ice Cream. They also have the supply of Spaulding stick balls. Joe is actually my Uncle Joe Quinlan; his wife is Lizzie. Both of them are hard workers and take care of the store every day. It's a busy little store, and if you're somebody in SA, you always stop by at Joe Smokes.

Across from Joe's is Mae and Jack's Tavern. Our friend Richie Johnson's grandparents own this local watering hole. As I walk past Mae & Jack's I come upon Power's Florist and Bay City Liquor where Henry Pfeffer has been a long time employee.

Across the street, at the Henry Street intersection, I see Norton's Meat Market - a place where one can purchase all types of fresh meats and sausages. It looks like Sarah Bloodgood's working today. Of course, I have to stop in at one of my favorite places, Lou's Bakery. My aunt is behind the counter. Lou's has the best fresh loaves of bread and rolls but is known for its strawberry shortcake. The bridge to the railroad station is also right here. It looks like a large group of kids is heading to Perth Amboy to go to the movies and have pizza. The movies are pretty much always old westerns and cartoons.

The west side of the block looks very busy. Oppenheim's Five and Ten is a first-generation Walmart kind of store where they have everything; toys, clothes, boots, winter coats. Next stop is Green's Mens Store. Best place in the county to buy a suit. Mr. Chiulli and his wife are working today, a good businessman and very nice people. Onward! I need to stop in and say hi to Lou, a friend of my dad. Lou runs Zall's, the local magazine and newspaper store. Zall's has a lunch and ice cream bar and people gather here every night, especially in the summer, around 9:30 pm. That's because the train from New York brings the NY papers containing all the horse racing results for the day. It's a simpler time. No internet betting!

Across the street from Zall's is South Amboy First Savings and Loan, Jerome's Bar and Siemer's Hardware. There's Adam Rzepka, founder of the bank, and Tom Nebus an employee at the hardware store. While waiting for the train to change engines, the commuters stop in at Jerome's for a shot. In fact, I've been told Mrs. Jerome knows exactly who drinks what and has the glasses all lined up on the bar in time for the train's arrival!

Oh, I forgot to go to the bank; got to put a $1.00 in the Christmas Club. So it's off to the Amboy National Bank. It's a fancy structure and you can see the vault. It's right out of Jimmy Stewart's Christmas movie It's a Wonderful Life. Another favorite on this side of the street is Oscar Reiner's Hardware Store. My mission is to pick up a pound of 8 penny nails. In the winter Mr. Reiner sells Red Flag Sleighs. A great store and family. Holden Jewelers is also here. A very beautiful store! I would bet that many of the engagement and wedding bands for people from South Amboy are purchased here. Straub's Meat Market and Ploskonka's Shoe Repair are also on this side. It's about $2.00 for new soles and heels—it's a simpler time.

Between David and Augusta Street are the two 1950's supermarket type stores—Safeway and A&P. The A&P is older and dates back to the early days of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. A&P is the Cheeseman's choice, but I have no idea why. A favorite by the A&P is the Daylight Bakery. A great business run by Polish immigrants. Everything is baked fresh daily. A South Amboy favorite from here is the cream doughnuts! Also in this section of town is Madura's Pharmacy. These are the days of not many over the counter meds, so you need to get a prescription from either Doc Hoffman or Dr. Hesseltine. These doctors are ahead of the times with their concierge service making house calls. All drug stores seem to have lunch counters and Madura's is no exception. I definitely give them the egg salad sandwich award.

Crossing over Augusta St. we come to the Corner Pub, SA Auto Parts, and Frank's Radio and Electric. This is the appliance center for the town, and where I bought my first portable shortwave radio. Next is the Independence Firehouse. Firehouses in South Amboy are important places. The firemen are all volunteers and take their job seriously. Almost all members are vets, and many saw combat in WW-2 or Korea. The firehouse supports youth baseball, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

We look across the street and see the Trust Company, Arky's Pharmacy, O'Connor's Ice Cream Parlor and a South Amboy favorite, Albern's Seafood. On Friday there's a fish fry. These are the days of no meat on Friday for Catholics, and since I would estimate that South Amboy is over 60% Catholic, it's always packed. Next is Peterson's Pharmacy, and then the Pennsylvania Railroad YMCA. If you have a contact, you can always make yourself a little money setting up the pins in the bowling alley.

Back across the street is Greco's Barber Shop, the Gas Company, Jasper's Fruit and Vegetable Market, and Doctor McFarlane's office. For me, there are two special stores in this section of town, Melrose Toy and Sporting Goods, and Crane's Hobby Shop! Oh, and I can't forget Soltis' Tailor Shop. As we head up Broadway, I can see Mr. Welsh at the Miller Bergen and Welsh lumber yard. There's no such thing as Home Depot or Lowe's.

One spot of historical significance is the home of Governor Harold G. Hoffman. Hoffman, who was born in South Amboy in 1896. After WW-I he returned home and served as the 41st Governor of New Jersey from 1935 to 1938. Governor Hoffman passed away in 1954 and is buried in Christ Church Cemetery.

Our last stop is Briggs Chevrolet. I'm going to stop and take a look at the early Corvettes with my hope of owning one after I get my driver's license.

Broadway and South Amboy are magical places. I have two favorite times. When it's snowing on Christmas Eve, I love looking at the Christmas lights my Uncle Ang from Dooling Electric put up. The street is so quiet; all you hear are the train engines changing, the whistles and the steam. Another favorite is when all the teams march down Broadway during the Little League Parade. The most important time of all, however, is the Memorial Day Parade. With so many of our dads having gone to war South Amboy is a patriotic city. So that's it! I honor the people of South Amboy from this time.

The Geologic History of South Amboy and Vicinity

Part 2 – Life Before the Dinosaurs

By James O. Brown, Ph.D.

In Part 1, I lamented about the lack of "local" rocks in South Amboy and vicinity with regard to Earth's first four billion years. This problem also holds true for the next 300 million years, in a Geologic Time known as the Paleozoic ("Ancient Life") Era. This era is the first part of the Phanerozoic ("Visible Life") Eon. Paleozoic rocks are fairly common in northern New Jersey and New York state, but are no longer found as bedrock in our area: all we have in town are "carpetbaggers". [Translation: once again we need to look elsewhere to understand what was going on in South Amboy 540 to 250 million years ago!]

Back in the late 1960's as a young boy exploring on the "Landfill" (or "Extraback": to be discussed in Part 7), I came upon one of those "carpet-baggers": a dark gray cobble size rock with some imprints on it that I recognized as fossils. I would later figure out that the small half-inch size impressions on the rock were of a type of animal called a brachiopod (or "lamp shell"). Ironically, 30 years later while working on my Ph.D. in Pennsylvania, I would find the same genus of fossil. Brachiopods are still found in today's oceans, but they are not as common and diverse as back in their Paleozoic heyday. Brachiopods superficially resemble a clam or oyster you might find today on the beach, but biologists know that their soft parts are a totally different type of animal. In fact, clams and oysters are more closely related to snails and squids than they are to lamp shells. When compared to the PreCambrian (see Part 1), life in the Paleozoic was bigger, more diverse and more complex, although the plants and animals present would only vaguely look familiar to what we see today.

A few years after my first fossil find, I would collect many more Paleozoic fossils, notably in the gravel beds that form the higher parts of South Amboy and Sayreville (to be discussed in Parts 5 and 6). Most of these fossils would typically be found on white-spotted orange to brown gravel. The gravel ranges in size from a quarter of inch to two inches in diameter. Besides lamp shells on these gravels, I would also find extinct corals, crinoids (also called "sea lilies" that are animals distantly related to starfish), and also rare specimens of a distant relative of the horseshoe crab called trilobites. The fossils and the rounded pieces of rock they are found in have been mineralized into a sedimentary rock called chert. It takes patience to find these fossils as maybe one out of a hundred rounded gravels will contain something that is readily recognizable as a fossil. Again, these "carpetbaggers" originally hail from up north in New Jersey, New York and possibly from Pennsylvania that represent an ocean that once covered this region.

Thanks to Plate Tectonics, the noted early "pre-Atlantic" ocean was destroyed at least once, when what is today eastern North America, western Europe and northwest Africa collided together. This collision formed a supercontinent that included the Appalachian Mountains which probably by the end of the Paleozoic were as majestic as the Rockies are today in terms of elevation. Rocks of the very last part of the Paleozoic Era and oldest part of the Mesozoic ("Middle Life") Era are extremely rare in eastern North America, so we need to appreciate this as the beginning of weathering of the Appalachians. [Translation: As previously noted in Part 1, both Life and the Landscape in South Amboy have frequently changed over time.]

In summary, life before the dinosaurs in South Amboy can only be inferred from rocks and fossils found elsewhere: notably in northwestern New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. The millions of years represented by the Paleozoic Era had at different times many different environments representing life on land or in the ocean. [Translation: if it weren't for the carpetbaggers, we wouldn't have much to say about this time in South Amboy's Geologic History.]

Spring Safety For Kids

Spring has arrived with the days getting longer and warmer. Children are playing outside more and more. Spring sports and activities can cause injuries.

BASEBALL

Spring fever and baseball fever go hand in hand, but injuries still happen when playing. In fact almost a half million baseball-related injuries are treated in doctors' offices and emergency rooms with the head involved more often than any other body part.

1. Always wear a batting helmet that meets the standards of the Nat'l Operating Committee on standard athletic equipment. When at bat, waiting to bat and running the bases.

2. Wear appropriate eye protection. Fielders should wear eyewear that meets the standards of ASTM, F803. Baseball batters and base runners should choose eyewear that meets ASTM standard F910.

3. Catchers should always use a catcher's mitt and wear a helmet, face-mask and throat guard, long model chest protector, protective supporter and shin guards.

4. Pitchers should follow guidelines about the number of innings pitched as recommended by their baseball league. About 4 to 10 innings per week depending upon age.

Other than wearing protective gear, there are three main areas in which sports injuries may be prevented. First and foremost is the strength of the skeletal muscles. The majority of sports injuries occur in the closing stages of the game when fatigue causes movements to become uncoordinated and accidents are more likely.

The second area protective equipment, which tends to either support or shield parts of the body at risk. In general, sports, is in itself a developmental activity, such development occurring through body parts gradually and increasingly stressed and compensating for this extra load.

The third aspect in injury prevention is the game, or contest rules themselves. Whatever athletes may think, most rules are formed by experienced competitors in order to make the game more enjoyable, demanding and safe.

As always, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Alone Again

Author Unknown

I wish someone would tell me what it is
 That I've done wrong,
 Why I have to stay chained up and Left alone so long.
 They seemed so glad to have me when I came here as a pup.
 There were so many things we'd do
 While I was growing up.
 They couldn't wait to train me as a companion and a friend,
 And told me how they'd never fear being left alone again.
 The children said they'd feed me and brush me every day.
 They'd play with me and walk me
 If I could only stay.
 But now the family "hasn't time";
 They often say I shed,
 They do not want me in the house not even to be fed.
 The children never walk me,
 They always say, "not now!"
 I Wish that I could please them,
 Won't someone tell me how?
 All I had, you see, was love,
 I wish they would explain
 Why they said they wanted me,
 Then left me on a chain?

Fishing Flashes
By Teo "Weebles" Weber

Salt Water
The dead of winter continues for us with the exceptionally cold weather we have been having. The Bay opened up on March 1st. I heard of 2 keeper Stripers, one at Keansburg, another at Leonardo. More fish will be caught later on but it won't be that great. I checked Keansburg one time but didn't see anyone fishing. With Blackfish season now closed, the party boats are left with a pick on Ling and a Cod or two. Most of the boats are not running and are laid up for maintenance. The best thing going right now is a good White Perch bite on blood worms in Toms River off the docks. A few Flounder and some short Stripers can be found among them. There are a few Keepers around too. A few Flounder were caught in the Shark River. They may catch a few more but too much cold water has hampered fishing.

Fresh Water
It was the worst of both of both worlds when it came to fresh water fishing. Most of the ice in upstate lakes started to melt so that it was not safe and the cold was keeping most of the lakes covered and making stream fishing difficult. It's been like that most of the winter. I gave it a try on the Pequest on President's Day in the afternoon for a few hours. The water conditions were high but clear. Outside of a nibble on a worm, all I did was put in time. I fished it hard with bait and lures, but it was no go! Opening day for Trout Season is April 6th at 8 AM after stream closings for restocking.
